Stroke Takes Life of One of Dionne Girls

Emilie Had Suffered From Epilepsy, Says Doctor After Autopsy

MONTREAL (AP) — An epileptic stroke caused the death of Emilie Dionne, one of the famed Callander quintuplets, Dr. Rosario Fontaine announced following an autopsy today.

Dr. Fontaine, Quebec's leading medico-legal expert, said the girl, who died after three strokes yesterday in Ste. Agathe, Que., had suffered from epilepsy for some time.

Pulmonary Congestion

"The epileptic stroke was brought up by pulmonary congestion, particularly in the pituitary gland in the brain," the doctor said after a 1¾-hour autopsy.

The autopsy was described as a formality necessary because of the prominence of the 20-year-old girl, and the fact no doctor was present when she succumbed. She died at Ste. Agathe Hostel for old folks and retired Roman Catholic clergymen.

Dr. Fontaine completed the autopsy at 10:15 a. m. He immediately conferred with Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Girouard, elder sister and brother-in-law of Emilie and the other quintuplets.

Her body was move under police escort 45 miles to the Montreal Morgue. The autopsy, by the specialist, Dr. Rosario Fontaine, was set for 8 a.m., EST.

Dispute Over Polio

The girl's grieving family went ahead with plans for funeral services and burial Monday near the Dionne home at Callander, Ont.

A dispute arose, meanwhile, over a surprise report that she had been stricken with polio as a child.

An elder sister, Mrs. Maurice Girourard, who arrived to take charge of the body, said yesterday Emilie had polio 17 years ago and since then had been afflicted with fainting spells. The sister explained she was not familiar with the medical term for the attacks but believed they were epileptic.

DEATH SEPARATES QUINTS. The death yesterday at St. Agathe, Que., of Emilie Dionne separated the famed Dionne quintuplets. News of the death of the 20-year-old girl came from her father, Oliva. He attributed it to a stroke which came without warning.

UPPER. One of the last group pictures made of the quints. They are, (left to right), front, Cecile and Yvonne; and back, Marie, Emilie and Annette.

LOWER. Last portrait of Emilie who appeared to be the healthiest of the five. The fatal stroke occurred in a religious rest home in St. Agathe. A few days before entering the rest home, she was found wandering in a dazed condition in Montreal.

Galion Resident Dies in Shelby Auto Accident

William Baldwin, 31, One of Two Killed; Three Others Injured

GALION — A 31-year-old Galion man was one of two persons killed when a car crashed on a county road near Shelby early today. Three other persons were seriously injured and are in Shelby Memorial Hospital.

William A. Baldwin was the Galion man. Also dead was a woman identified by the state highway patrol as Opal Bloomfield, 28, who had been residing at a Mansfield hotel.

Hospital officials said the injured were too badly hurt for definite identification and tentatively listed them as Clay Baker, about 24, of near Shiloh in Richland County, the driver, and Geraldine Packett, age unknown, and Mildred Mullet, 34, both residing in Mansfield hotels. The patrol had listed the Mullet woman's name as Maltrose.

Baldwin was born in Morrow County, a son of George A. and Lula Coykendall Baldwin. He was married on July 8, 1943 to Mabel Sipes who survives with four children, James, David, Ellen Sue, and Larry, all at home.

Brothers and sisters surviving include Mrs. David Herndon of Galion, Frederick Baldwin of Ft Story, Va., and Shirley, Nellie, Rosella, Kenneth, George, Lamerton, and Calvin, all of Mount Gilead.

Baldwin was employed as a truck driver with the Mansfield Tire and Rubber Co. for six years.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3:30 p.m. Monday at the Volk Funeral Home in Galion, with the Rev. Heath officiating. Burial will be in the Iberia Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

Predictions On Censure Action Vary

Some Think Senate Will Vote on McCarthy Case Before Election

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) predicted today the Senate will get a chance to vote before the November election on the issue of censuring Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

But Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) said in a separate interview he expects the intensified "political atmosphere" of the campaign for control of Congress to delay any such showdown until late in the year if not until next January.

Underline Differences

The rival forecasts underlined the wide-ranging differences of view on Capitol Hill as a six-man committee drafted to probe censure charges against McCarthy went into recess over the weekend.

Yesterday the bipartisan group picked Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) as chairman and decided to bar TV and radio from its forthcoming hearings.

Monday the special committee gathers again behind closed doors to go over a list of 46 specific accusations levelled at McCarthy by Sens. Flanders (R-Vt), Fulbright (D-Ark) and Morse (Ind-Ore), with an eye to weeding out charges that are minor or overlap.

Says Two Charges Out

McCarthy declared last night that at least two of the charges have already "fallen by the wayside." He named them as the accusations that he acted improperly toward Annie Lee Moss and toward Lawrence W. Parrish, both witnesses who have appeared before the Senate Investigations subcommittee he heads.

The special committee, composed of three Republicans and three Democrats, also will have to tackle some disputed points of procedure before it can get to the hearings stage. Still to be decided: Whether the hearings should be public, and whether McCarthy should have the right to cross-examine witnesses as he has demanded.

The committee's unanimous decision against radio-TV coverage yesterday prompted a protest from Charles Roeder, chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee of the Radio-Television News Directors Assn.

Urges Reconsideration

Urging reconsideration of the ban in a telegram to Watkins, Roeder said the association "reminds your committee that it is Sen. McCarthy who is the subject of your censure study—not radio and television."

As for how much time the committee will need, Watkins and his five colleagues all agreed they can make an investigation and report to the Senate in time for a vote before the election.

SHEPPARD DENIED HEARING APPEAL. A series of callers comes to visit Dr. Samuel Sheppard, charged with the murder of his wife, Marilyn. Among the callers at the Cuyahoga County jail were (from left) Gerry Flick, an osteopathic student-friend, Mrs. Stephen Sheppard and Mrs. Richard Sheppard. Later, attorneys for Dr. Sheppard were denied an appeal to save him from a first-degree murder hearing.

Attorneys Plan New Move in Sheppard Case

Will File Affidavit Of Prejudice Against Acting Village Mayor

CLEVELAND (AP) — Defense attorneys planned another legal maneuver today in their fight to block a preliminary hearing of a first degree murder charge against Dr. Samuel Sheppard.

They said they would file an affidavit of prejudice against the man who ordered him jailed — Gershom Barber, Bay Village council president.

Had Issued Warrant

It was Barber, as acting mayor, who issued the warrant charging the young osteopath clubbed his 31-year-old wife Marilyn, to death in the bedroom of their Bay Village home July 4. Sheppard, 30, blames the attack on "a bushy-haired stranger."

Timothy F. McMahon, one of Sheppard's lawyers, said "from what I've read in the newspapers, the statements Barber has made clearly indicate his prejudice." He didn't say what the statements were.

Originally Barber set the preliminary hearing for this afternoon. Later it was continued to next Monday. Unless both sides agree, it cannot be postponed any further. The purpose of the hearing is to decide whether there is enough evidence to hold Dr. Sheppard for the grand jury.

Interview Student

Detectives last night took a lengthy statement from a 20-year-old Cornell University medical student who described himself as an admirer of Sheppard. They didn't tell reporters what they had learned from Gervase M. Flick, who had visited the doctor during the day.

But Flick, son of an osteopath at Bay View Hospital, where Sheppard practices, said he "gave them several leads."

In Detroit last night police found

Jenner Clashes With Witness; Allegations Fly

Ex-Sergeant Declares Senator Was Drunk; 'He's a Liar' Is Retort

WASHINGTON (AP) — The firing was hot and heavy when a couple of wartime Army men—former Capt. William E. Jenner and ex-Sgt. William P. Gandall—faced each other in a congressional hearing room yesterday.

Gandall accused Jenner, now chairman of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, of getting drunk and disorderly while stationed in England during World War II.

Jenner promptly called Gandall a liar.

The Indiana Republican was trying to show at a committee hearing that the witness, Gandall, did writing and other work for the Army's information and education program despite a long connection with left-wing causes.

Gandall said one thing he did was try to improve morale at Marbury Hall Reception Center in England where, he said, "guys were going on drunks."

"Including," he added, "Jenner."

"I had to pull him out of a pub—tight as hell," the tough-talking witness recounted in tones that would have carried across a parade ground.

"You know you are lying," Jenner said calmly.

"Many a sergeant," Gandall told the senator, "saw you drunk and disorderly. We didn't call you the captain of the night for nothing."

Jenner told Gandall he was only trying to make a scene at the

Margin Will Be Slim; Both Sides Hopeful

Whether Price Props Should Remain High Chief Issue in Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — A handful of votes was seen as the margin of victory today, whichever side wins, as the Senate headed toward a showdown vote Monday afternoon in the battle over farm price supports.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) predicted in an interview that "if all senators are present and voting I think the Senate will approve a flexible program of from 80 to 90 per cent of parity" on basic crops. Aiken is chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee and supports the administration plan for flexible price props.

Young Confident

But Sen. Young (R-ND), signal-caller for a bipartisan group that favors an extension of rigid 90 per cent supports, offered to bet a reporter "a good steak dinner that we'll beat that."

A check of known positions of senators indicated the victory margin will be from two to four votes, no matter who wins the first test.

Aiken and Majority Leader Knowland (R-Calif) had hoped for a key vote yesterday but the growing list of senators who want to make speeches soon scuttled that. A unanimous consent agreement was then reached to limit debate and start voting Monday, leaving today open for more speechmaking.

Young avoided a claim that his group could defeat a flexible price range of from 82½ to 90 per cent of parity, as approved by the House and listed as satisfactory by the President.

Compromise Ruled Out

That appeared an open invitation to Aiken to raise the floor of his proposal 2 points from 80 to 82½ of parity. Parity is a farm goods price said by law to be fair to farmers in terms of the cost of what they must buy.

Aiken ruled out a compromise along these lines, however.

"I know there are one or two senators who would prefer to vote for 82½ to 90," Aiken said, "but there also are quite a number who would prefer 75 to 90 or even zero to 90, on our side."

Sen. Langer (R-D), who plans a lengthy speech, delayed the debate-limiting agreement yesterday until he was assured he could talk as long as he wished today before the limits apply.

Alliance Girl Victor in Ohio Beauty Contest

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — For the third year in a row, the new Miss Ohio is the girl who entered the contest as Miss Dennison. This year it is Barbara Quinlan.

Miss Quinlan is 20, lives in Alliance and is a student at Ohio State University. She is 5-feet-4, and has brown hair and brown eyes. A mezzo-soprano, she sang an aria from "Carmen" in the talent contest.

She will represent this state in the Miss America contest starting Labor Day weekend in Atlantic City.

Her prize for becoming Miss Ohio was $500, plus a trophy, and a crown placed on her head by Martha Zimmerman, who was Miss Dennison and Miss Ohio last year. Two years ago those two titles were held by Carol Jean Koontz.

Second prize of $250 was won by 19-year-old Joan Mae Schoenfeld, an elevator operator in a

'Un-American' Influences Cited

Legion in Illinois Severs Its Support of Girl Scouts

CHICAGO (AP) — The Illinois American Legion has severed its support of the Girl Scouts of America, charging that "un-American influences" exist in the girl organization's literature.

Convention delegates took the formal action in a roaring voice vote last night after 90 minutes of lively debate in which opponents assailed the resolution as "silly."

Charges Enumerated

The resolution charged:

1. That the Girl Scouts 1953 handbook "gives the United Nations and one world citizenship precedence over American citizenship."

2. That the writings of unnamed alleged pro-Communist authors "have been highly recommended in an official Girl Scout's magazine as authentic historic material."

Lawrence J. Fenlon, former Illinois Legion commander who has two daughters in the Girl Scouts led the opposition, declaring at one point:

"How screwy can we get?"

He contended the resolution smeared individual Girl Scouts as subversive. He said the Legion's action would bar the use of his home for troop meetings.

But supporters of the resolution asserted it was aimed at "only a few people in the movement."

Bill of Rights Deleted

The vote to blast the Girl Scouts came after Edgar C. Bundy of Wheaton, a member of the Legion's antisubversive commission, asserted a reproduction of the Bill of Rights appearing in the 1947 handbook had been deleted from the 1953 book.

The resolution states that the Legion's Illinois department withdraws "all support" until such a time as "the responsible directors of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. give irrefutable proof to the American public that they have taken definite measures to eliminate these un-American influences from the Girl Scout handbook and publications."

Some 2,000 delegates took part in the voice vote.

Florence Otto of Chicago, Great Lakes regional director of the Girl Scouts, said the allegations in the resolution "simply are not true."

Defends Redistricting

School Board Will Appeal Local Case

The Marion County Board of Education is planning to carry its recently-invalidated school redistricting problems to the Court of Appeals, County Superintendent of Schools D. T. Mills reported Friday. Mills serves as the board's clerk.

This is the latest step in the school district controversy which started last December with a series of transfers of school district territory made by the board in an effort to comply with a state law taking effect the first of this June.

IN ORDER TO MEET the state requirements for doing away with those school districts which did not maintain public schools, the county board on Dec. 31, 1953 transferred territory from the local school districts of Green Camp, Morral and Marion Township to Meeker.

Two suits, filed Feb. 18 in the Marion County Common Pleas Court by a Green Camp district taxpayer and the Marion local school district board of education, challenged the validity of these transfers.

Following a hearing on a request for a temporary injunction against the county board, Judge Jay S. McDevitt of Mount Vernon issued a temporary restraining order on Feb. 24. Subsequently, on June 24, an opinion was filed ruling that the board's action was invalid. This opinion was handed down by Judge Marion B. Owen who was assigned to the case.

On July 29, attorneys filed the journal entry making Judge Owen's opinion official along with a journal entry indicating that a request made by the county board for a new trial had been overruled.

Mills reported that the request for a new hearing was a formality before the case could be taken to the Court of Appeals.

The current court action will not have any effect on school children in the school districts involved, Mills reported. Marion Township local school district board of education has the authority to assign the students to the schools, he added. To his knowledge, however, Mills said the students this September would go to the same schools they attended last year.

What Is Story On Otto John?

Reward of $119,000 Offered To Find Out

BONN, Germany (AP)—The West German government offered a reward of $119,000 today for information that will clear up the strange disappearance of its former security chief, Dr. Otto John.

Government officials voiced hopes this huge reward would lure some East German Communist who knows the true details of the John case to desert to the West.

John, who headed the Office for the Protection of the Constitution — the West German FBI—Crossed over to East Berlin July 20.

The East Zone government said Wednesday it had given the former security chief asylum at his request.

Three Trusties At Mansfield Make Escape

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Three trusties at the Ohio Reformatory here stole keys from the reformatory florist today and escaped in his car.

The state highway patrol and reformatory officials sounded an alarm throughout the state for their capture.

Officials identified the escapees as Walter Clifton, 23, admitted April 12, 1954 from Lucas County to serve a 1-15 year sentence for burglary and larceny; Dana Glick, 22, admitted July 23 1951, from Clinton County to serve a 3-30 year term for assault with intent to maim, and Robert Savage, 24, admitted Dec. 12, 1949, from Franklin County, to serve a 1-15 year term for burglary and grand larceny.

Reformatory officers said the trusties were working at the greenhouse when they grabbed Charles Wheatcraft, the florist, took his car keys and fled.

Air Guard Units To Stand Alerts Starting Aug. 15

Two units of the Ohio Air National Guard are to stand 14-hour daylight alerts at Columbus and at Mansfield starting Aug. 15, The Associated Press reported today.

The units are the 166th Fighter-Bomber Squadron at Lockbourne Air Force Base, and the 164th Fighter-Bomber Squadron at Mansfield. They are among 17 units in the nation to go on alert before the end of the year.

Brig. Gen. E. H. Briscoe, commander of the Ohio wing of the guard, said each squadron will supply F80 jet fighters, five pilots and 10 maintenance men. Guardsmen on active duty will receive regular Air Force pay and allowances for their periods of duty, the tours to be staggered so the men can continue their civil jobs.

The Mansfield unit includes several Marionites.

Kansas City Rally

Truman Peps Up Party, Asks Fighting Campaign

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — If the Democrats capture Congress from the Republicans in November they'll have to give a lot of credit to that old political warrior—former President Harry S. Truman.

Even though weak and wan from illness and an operation, it was the man from Independence, Mo., who gave the fighting tone to a meeting of Democratic leaders gathered here to map a money-raising drive to finance the coming campaign.

Urges Fighting Campaign

Truman drove here from his nearby home last night and urged a fighting campaign which he insisted would sweep the Democrats back into control of both the Senate and the House.

A few hours after the ex-President's pep talk, the Democrats upped their congressional campaign fund goal from $475,000 to a million dollars. Stephen Mitchell, national party chairman, said people from the grassroots "believed our plans were too small."

"It's obvious these people mean business," Mitchell said. "There are elements present today for a massive victory in this campaign."

He said these elements were disillusionment and bitterness about the present administration and a new and higher value that people have placed on the Democratic party in control of Congress."

Plans Active Part

Truman said he planned to take an active part in the campaign.

"I'll do as much as I can to elect a Democratic ticket, and whatever I can do I will do," he said.

Truman was the star of the gathering and Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, seemed pleased to step aside and let the spotlight play on the man who once was President.

There was a surprising vigor in Truman's step and in his voice. Once he bounced up from a chair with the old-time spring—but for the most part he seemed content to conserve his strength.

Stevenson left Kansas City for Omaha, Neb., without giving a hint as to his availability for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1956.

Stevenson said: "Even if I knew, I just don't believe I'd tell you. But I don't know myself."

Russia Warns People Against 'Spies' for U.S.

Intelligence Service Has 100,000 Agents, Moscow Radio Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moscow Radio says "the United States Intelligence Service" employs more than 100,000 "active spies and saboteurs."

And it passes these anti-spy tips on to Soviet citizens:

Don't be chatty. Stay sober. Keep official documents where they belong — in the office.

For Home Consumption

This information on espionage went out over the air waves recently, beamed from Moscow in the Russian language to Soviet Far Eastern provinces. It was put out strictly for home consumption, but American listening posts picked it up and reported to Washington officials.

The broadcast almost sounds as if the Reds were trying to work up a spy scare deliberately to put the Russian people on guard against "agents, spies, saboteurs and murderers" for what the Kremlin calls U.S. imperialism.

Officially it's devoted to two recent Russian booklets designed to inspire comrades everywhere to keep a sharp eye open for foes of the Communist state who may be lurking about in disguise.

Specific Hints

As for specific hints on how to frustrate the spies, Moscow Radio says:

"To be vigilant means first of all to know how to keep party and state secrets. A chatty person is a real find for a spy . . .

Foreign intelligence agents make a special point of finding people who like to have a drink because, as the saying goes, 'a drunken person says that which a sober person thinks of.'

"It is much easier to steal from a drunken person the required document . . .

"Taking documents home for work is a direct crime . . . cases are known when documents were stolen from inattentive people on street cars and trains."

hearing and wasn't going to get away with it. And so the questioning shifted to other subjects.

Gandall, a 45-year-old New Yorker who gave his occupation as "publicist" and said he has been a union organizer and editor, denied being a Communist now but refused to say, on grounds of possible self-incrimination, whether he ever had been a Communist.

Jenner told reporters later he was adjutant at Marbury Hall at the time Gandall was stationed there. Gandall said he was "shanghaied" away from the camp by Jenner and led a dog's life in the Army ever after. Jenner said he didn't even remember Gandall.

As for the drunk and disorderly charge: "You have to expect abuse like that when you're exposing Fifth Amendment Communists," Jenner said.

District Democrats Plan For Campaign Openings

Plans for a Congressional campaign "kick-off dinner to be held Aug. 27 in Kenton were announced by Thomas C. Fetter, county chairman, at a meeting of the Marion County Democratic Club Friday evening in the Community room of the West Town Branch Bank.

Arrangements for the dinner were made Thursday evening when Democratic central and executive committee chairmen from seven counties, including Marion, gathered in Tiffin. At this meeting plans for the campaign were made.

JAMES LAUER of Prospect, district committeeman, announced that Rep. Ed Edmondson, member of Congress from Oklahoma, would be the main speaker for the dinner. Other speakers will include Sen. Thomas Burke, Gov. Frank J. Lausche, and George D. Nye, who will serve as toastmaster. Invited guests will include state and district candidates.

Lauer, Fetter, George Stafford and Mrs. Clifford B. Stoll represented Marion County at the Thursday meeting. Stafford and Mrs. Stoll were named chairmen of the congressional campaign in Marion County.

John L. Roof of Kenton was chosen chairman of the committee making arrangements for the dinner. He will be assisted by Fetter and Stafford of Marion, Robert Booth and Harry Bozarth of Tiffin, Ben Hosler and Virgil Gase of Findlay, Paul Smith of Mount Gilead, William Hunter and Don Rinehart of Upper Sandusky, John Messerschmidt and Leo J. Scanlin of Bucyrus, and Kenneth Petrie of Galion.

At the Thursday meeting the group pledged their support of Thomas M. Dowd of Kenton, candidate for Congress from the Eighth District, who was present and addressed the group briefly.

DOWD ALSO was a guest at Friday's meeting of the Marion County group, along with Virgil Anderson, candidate for county representative to the Ohio Legislature.

Dowd, a Kenton farmer and attorney, addressed the Marion County group Friday night, replying to a statement issued last week by Rep. Jackson E. Betts, Congressional incumbent.

Dowd cited the failure of Congress to examine the question of a sound land use program that would take into account the needs and conditions of different farms in different sections of the nation as the basis of an agricultural program, to be the motivating factor in the recent defeat of wheat marketing quotas by Eighth District farmers.

The Hardin County man, who seeks the seat now occupied by Betts, called for a "land use" program instead of what he called the present "land disuse" program.

The speaker said that the Midwestern general farmer "is dissatisfied with Secretary Benson and the blind Congressional support which the secretary has received from the present Congress."

Dowd criticized the retention of the "historical base" as a primary means of figuring acreage allotments, pointing out that it was beneficial primarily to the Western one-crop farmer. This system penalizes the general farmers who have been following good farming practices, he continued, and when applied to the one-crop farmer, it keeps some marginal land in production that should not be.

OTHER FACTORS cited by Dowd were Congressional curtailment of soil conservation funds, REA loans and facilities, arbitrary shifting of dairy support prices, and failure of Congress to extend the same tax consideration to the farmer as it has given the business and industry.

Dowd called for a repudiation of Secretary Benson and an end to Congressional favoritism to one-crop Western interests at the expense of the diversified general farmer, whom he characterized as constituting the backbone of the nation's agricultural economy.

Presiding for the Friday meeting was C. R. Thomas, president of the county organization. Plans for a picnic to be held Sept. 11 at Hickory Grove Lake were reported.

Traffic Cases in Court

Six motorists were fined for traffic violations in Municipal Court Friday, while another was found not guilty of a charge of failing to have assured clear distance.

Mrs. Virginia J. White, of 332 Windsor St. was found not guilty of the charge. She was arrested after an accident Thursday afternoon. Her car collided with one driven by Charles F. Davis of 141½ E. George St.

Heaviest penalty was against Judd S. Thacker, 29, of 473 Lee St. Thacker was also arrested after an accident Thursday and charged with reckless operation. His car ran into a telephone pole and tree at the corner of E. Farming St. and N. Greenwood St. Thursday night, injuring his wife.

Thacker was fined $25 and costs and had his drivers license suspended for 60 days.

Other motorists fined, the charge, and amount of fine follow:

Terry A. Strawser, 19, of Delaware, reckless operation, $15 and costs; Ebbie S. Satterfield, 58, of Charlotte, N. C. safety chain violation, $15 and costs; Franklin D. Himler, 20, of near Cardington, failure to have assured clear distance, $15 and costs; Floy E. Deyo, 38, of near Mount Sterling, speeding, $15 and costs; and Gregory, A. Sloat of Sandusky, left of center, $15 and costs.

FISH LIKE PINK

TOKYO (AP) — Fishing sxperts in northern Japan say pink is a fish's favorite color. They told the newspaper Asahi they dyed their nets pink and got triple the ordinary catch.

District Traffic Cases

Nine motorists were arrested and fined Friday for traffic violations in Morrow and Wyandot Counties, state highway patrolmen from the Marion post reported today. Six of those were fined by Mayor Don Healea of Cardington. Those drivers, the charge, and amount of fine follow:

David M. Porter, 46, of Louisville, Ky., speed, $20 and costs; Ethel L. Striver of Browards, Fla., speed, $25 and costs; Willie N. Hewlett, 23, of Cleveland, speed, $25 and costs; Dairrel J. Beam, 25, of Cleveland, speed, $25 and costs; Albert Caldwell, 51, of Knoxville, Tenn., a fictitious license, $50 and costs; and John Hamilton, 22, of Shelby, speed, $15 and costs.

Thomas Maddock, 23, of Cleveland and Frank Wilson, 30, of Akron were both fined for speeding by Mayor Emery Murphy of Mount Gilead. Maddock was fined $20 and costs while Wilson paid $25 and costs.

Gerald Berry, 38, of Ann Arbor, Mich., was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Harold Koehler of Upper Sandusky, also on a speeding charge.

Three Children Hurt in Traffic Mishaps Here

None Suffer Serious Injuries; City Police Report Five Accidents

Three small children were injured in two of five accidents reported today by city police. Sheriff's deputies reported one accident on County roads in the past 24 hours, while state patrolmen from the Marion post investigated no mishaps on highways in Marion County. One of the city accidents involved damage of less than $100.

At 9:06 a.m. Friday, a car driven by Mrs. Annabelle Jolliff, 31, of 423 Fies Ave. struck the rear of a car owned by Walter G. Barton, 48, of near Cardington, parked in front of 837 W. Center St.

Mrs. Jolliff told police her seven-month-old son, Michael, started to slip from the seat. She said she reached over to stop him and lost control of the car. The baby suffered a bump on the head and was taken to a local physician for treatment.

A motorist was arrested after he was involved in an accident in which two children were injured at the corner of Park Blvd. and W. Columbia St. Friday at 5:28 p.m.

David A. Benson, 19, of Mount Gilead, was ordered to appear in Municipal Court to answer a charge of failing to obey a stop sign.

His car collided with one driven by Paul L. Hammon, 28, of near Marion. Two children of Hammon's, Ann, 5, and Carol Sue, 3, were slightly injured by the impact. Both cars had to be removed from the scene of the mishap by wrecker.

Two cars were badly damaged when they collided in the intersection of two alleys at the rear of 228 N. Main St. They were driven by Miss Hazel E. Stoner of 368 Girard Ave. and by Mrs. Mabel L. Manley of 912 Gebhardt St.

Time of the mishap was 12:27 p.m. Friday. Both cars had to be removed by wrecker. Police estimated both vehicles were traveling at 10 miles per hour when they collided.

Another mishap at the corner of Park Blvd. and W. Columbia St. was reported at 2:31 p.m., Friday. Cars driven by Mrs. Ruth V. Kinsler of New Bloomington and Charles L. McGrath, 20, of Mount Gilead were damaged when they collided at the intersection.

County Man Injured

Henry Harrison Jordan, 29, of near Marion, was treated at Marion City Hospital Friday night for facial injuries sustained in an automobile accident at 11:30 p.m. on Cottage St. Jordan told investigating deputies he was trying to avoid an unidentified zig-zagging car as he was driving north on Cottage St. when he went off the road.

Sheppard

Mrs. Margot Pebbles, 32, a nurse, could tell them nothing about Dr. Sheppard's past. She denied knowing the doctor.

The nurse had worked for a Los Angeles osteopath several years ago when Dr. Sheppard was studying in that city.

Mrs. Pebbles was one of five women police tried to link with Sheppard in an attempt to show a motive for the slaying of the doctor's pregnant wife.

Find New Blood Trail

Police, using a fluorescent process, reported they had found a new trail of blood, leading into the basement of the Sheppard house. Detectives said they now have charted a complete and jagged course of blood spots from room to room and into the garage.

Blood spots, even if wiped off, show up more clearly as time goes on, Coroner Samuel Gerber explained.

James E. McArthur, deputy police inspector, said the trail of blood shows that the killer did not hurry from the house after the crime but walked around in panic and uncertainty.

Dr. Sheppard told an inquest he was knocked out twice after running upstairs to answer his wife's cry for help.

Profit Made in June, Lake Central Reports

Lake Central Airlines, after making an analysis of operating reports for the year ending June, 1954, has announced some outstanding results in cost reduction and load factor increases for that period.

In June, 1954, Lake Central, for the first time in its four year history, realized an operating profit. Lake Central's successful June operations were the result of the continuous pattern of decreasing costs per mile and increasing load factors experienced by the local service carrier.

Operating costs per mile for June of 1954 were $1.19 as against $1.35 for June of 1953. Average figures for the twelve month period ending June, 1954, showed $1.22 per mile contrasted with $1.36 per mile for the twelve months ending June, 1953.

The load factor for June of 1954 was 30.6 per cent above June of last year.

PROSPECTIVE CAR BUYERS. Two Menominee Indian lads check over a new toy auto in a store at Neopit, Wis., on the Menominee reservation, where a buying spree is expected. Each of the 3,254 adult Indians on tribal roles has received a $1,500 check from the federal government as first payment for a 9½ million dollar trust fund set up four years ago after the tribe won a law suit charging the government with mismanagement of tribal affairs. Authorities have resurrected an old federal law prohibiting peddlers from Indian reservations without a license, to keep the reservation from turning into a salesmen's mecca.

School District

Redistricting action of the county school board first received wide public attention when Lowell H. Guthery of 451 Merchant Ave. filed a petition Feb. 18 asking Common Pleas Court to set aside the school territory transfers.

Guthery, a taxpayer of Green Camp local school district, brought the action for himself and other taxpayers similarly situated, against the county school board and County Auditor Maurice C. Clements.

In his petition, he related that the county school board transferred part of the territory of Green Camp local school district to Meeker local school district by means of a resolution adopted Dec. 31, 1953. The territory contained no inhabitants, Guthery alleged, and therefore the transfer was invalid.

If the defendants were not restrained, a part of the taxes in the process of being collected at that time from the taxpayers of the transferred territory would be distributed to the Meeker local school district, the petition claimed. This further would reduce the valuation of the tax duplicate of the Green Camp local school district to the detriment of himself and other taxpayers of the district, the plaintiff maintained.

For these reasons, Guthery asked the court to set aside the transfer of school territory and to issue a temporary injunction restraining the county board from taking further proceedings with respect to the transfer, and restraining Clements from transferring the territory from Green Camp to Meeker and from distributing the tax money.

IN THEIR ANSWER, filed March 31, members of the Marion County Board of Education admitted transferring territory consisting of 227 acres having a tax valuation of $19,390 from Green Camp local school district to Meeker local school district by a unanimously adopted resolution on Dec. 31, 1953.

Within 10 days after adoption of the resolution, County Superintendent of Schools Mills, as clerk of the board, filed with the county auditor a map showing boundaries of the territory transferred, as required by law. There was no written remonstrance against the transfer filed with the board, the defendant's answer claims, following filing of this map.

Therefore, on Feb. 9 the board by resolution made a division of funds and indebtedness between the school districts involved.

In his reply to this answer of the defendant board, Guthery on April 26 challenged that "any of the said proceedings were regularly and duly taken." He added that "no inhabitants lived in the territory transferred by whom a remonstrance might have been filed."

In a routine reply filed by County Auditor Clements on April 21, he said that he would "be governed by the orders of the Common Pleas Court."

Citing the Matthews case, heard in Cuyahoga County in 1917, which held that "a county board of education is not authorized to transfer vacant property," the plaintiff in the Marion County action further outlined his case in a brief filed April 29.

ALL THE TERRITORY transferred from Green Camp local school district was owned by the Wyandot Farm Company, a corporation, and no one lived in the territory, Guthery re-emphasized. In the Matthews case, a similar situation existed, in that the territory in question also was not inhabited and was owned by a corporation.

On May 20, attorneys for the county board of education filed their brief. As background, the brief stated that the current case and two companion cases, filed by the board of education of Marion local school district and William R. Tracewell, derived from the "attempt by the board to resolve a problem that had arisen in the county district by reason of the failure of Marion local school district to maintain public schools."

In order to comply with a state law which was to become effective on June 1, 1954, providing for the abolition of school districts which did not operate public schools, the brief explained that the county board made a series of transfers of school territory.

From Green Camp local school district, 227 acres having a tax valuation of $19,390 was transferred to Meeker local school district.

From Morral local school district, 707 acres having a tax valuation of $137,700 was transferred to Meeker local school district.

From Marion local school district, 409 acres having a tax valuation of $1,022,000 was transferred to Meeker local school district.

The defendant board's brief further states that a territory of Marion local school district property having a tax valuation of $675,000 was transferred to the Marion city school district at this same meeting. A subsequent reply brief of the plaintiff corrects this statement to read that this fourth transfer did not take place until Feb. 13 and 17.

Prior to these transfers, the tax valuations of the districts, according to the defendant board, were as follows: Green Camp, $6,000,000; Marion local, $1,700,000; Morral, $3,500,000; and Meeker, $2,250,000.

THE DEFENDANT BOARD, in this brief, admitted that "no qualified elector voting in the last general election resided in that part of the Marion local school district that was transferred to the Meeker district, and there was no one who could have remonstrated against that transfer."

However, the brief went on to say, "the county board had ascertained and considered the desires of the persons affected by all the transfers."

"Where there are other proper reasons for the transfer," the brief continues, "the mere existence of unoccupied land or the mere fact that no one in the territory voted at the last general election would not defeat the transfer."

Continuing its contention that the transfer was valid, the defendant board said, "It is unrealistic to claim that the transfer in this case was a transfer of vacant land. There were three other resolutions in one evening adopted consecutively, which cannot be considered other than as a single action.

"We think a review of the cases in this state where transfers have been held to be invalid will show the court that only where the action of the board of education has been manifestly abusive, have the courts intervened. Where vacant territory was transferred along with other territory the court has left it alone, and where technical non-compliance with the statute is involved, again the court declines to interfere."

If it had chosen to do so, the county board of education could have accomplished the same thing by creating a new Meeker school district embracing the territory of the old Meeker local school district and the territory which was transferred on Dec. 31.

On this phase of the situation, the brief asks, "How can there be abuse of discretion where the board did what it had a right to do but chose to do it in a way that gave the people affected more of a right to remonstrate than they would have had if the creation procedure had been followed?"

Claiming that the "real adversaries are the Marion city school district and the Marion county school district," the reply concludes by saying that "a concession was made by the county board to those persons in the Marion local school district who desired to be transferred to the Marion city school district and they were transferred accordingly."

ANSWERING THE BOARD'S brief, Guthery filed his reply brief five days later on May 25. Going into more details about the territory transfers implemented by the board on Dec. 31, Guthery's reply brief explained that three transfers to the Meeker district were made on that date. The balance of the territory of the Marion local school district was not transferred to the Marion city school district until Feb. 13 and Feb. 17, the plaintiff explained.

In the meantime, Guthery said, a petition was filed with the county board of education on Jan. 26, requesting transfer of all of the territory of the Marion local school district to the Marion city school district, including the part purportedly transferred to Meeker by the third resolution on Dec. 31.

"This petition was ignored when the action of Feb. 13 and 17 was taken and the territory transferred on those dates has not been accepted by the Marion city school district," Guthery continued.

Answering the defendant board's claim that the transfer should be upheld by the court because the board could have accomplished the same result by different methods, Guthery's petition says that "we are not attacking what the county board might have done. Why it did not see fit to create a new school district is best known to it."

The Columbus law firm of Knepper, White, Richards, Miller and Roberts is representing the county board of education, while the Marion law firm of Guthery, Harmon, Conkle and Gracely is representing the plaintiffs.

Members of the county board of education are Ralph Williams, president, W. H. Knowles, vice president, Clifton Wenig, O. M. Mills, and Edwin J. Carey.

Janice Zimmerman Gets Forest Centennial Honor

FOREST — Miss Janice Zimmerman was crowned queen of the Forest Centennial last night in a special ceremony preceding the third and final presentation of a pageant, "Forest Through the Years," at Memorial Field.

A crowd of about 2,500 persons witnessed the final showing of the pageant.

Escorted to the throne on the pageant platform by Roger Snyder, Miss Zimmerman was crowned by Rodney Burk. With the title, she won the first prize of a $50 war savings bond. She was sponsored by the Business and Professional Womens Club of Forest.

RUNNER-UP WAS Miss Mona Ruth Fortney, who received a $25 war savings bond. Both bonds were donated by the First National Bank.

Other girls in the queen's court as well as the queen were presented arm bouquets of gladioli. The selection of queen was made by popular vote of those persons attending the pageant and casting a ballot before noon Friday.

Approximately 400 persons took part in the two and one-half hour long pageant which was given Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights before more than 2,000 persons each night. The script was written by Mrs. William Price and Mrs. Harry Hamel, and narrators were Rodney Burk, P. W. Thomas, D. Ray Baum, Miss Marcella Ickes and Mrs. Glenn Bunnell.

The pageant consisted of nine episodes which related village history from beginning until the present day. In order, they were "The First Settlers" with Don Shirk as chairman; "The Village of Patterson Trading Center" with Mrs. Florence Kellogg as chairman; "The Railroad" with Ralph Fernbaugh as chairman; "Community Life in the Early 1870s" with Mrs. Howard Cavinee as chairman; "The Gay 90s" with Mrs. Elmer Cramer as chairman; "The Early School" with Mrs. Leroy Snider as chairman; "Pageant of the Wars" with Mrs. Maxine Thompson and Mrs. Harry Farison as co-chairman; "The Roaring 20's" with Mrs. Irene Thompson and Mrs. Kenneth Walton as co-chairmen; "The Dickleman Fire" with Morris Burk and Vernon Lockard as co-chairmen.

PAGEANT CHAIRMAN and director was Joe Shields, assisted by committee chairmen Harold Ulrich, Marion Forney and Mrs. Bert Daniels, stage and scenery; Howard Miller and Sheldon Lehr, lighting; Mrs. Kale Crissler, costumes; Mrs. Lester Price, make-up. Organist was Mrs. Russell Ohlemacher, pianist was Mrs. Leroy Latham Sr., and directing the pageant choir of about 100 voices was Ralph Balmer.

The crowning of the queen preceding the pageant was in charge of Clyde Seebach, and the Forest band, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts, the 4-H Pep Club, the Patterson 4-H Club and FFA boys and girls participated in a fanfare. The pageant closed with the audience singing "God Bless America," during which the American Flag was displayed.

A display of fireworks concluded the evening's event. Tonight, the celebration event will be the Spook Beekman TV show at 8:30 p.m., along with the judging of the beards. Sunday, a religious service will be held at 11 a.m. at Memorial Field, with Dr. J. Garber Drushall of the department of speech at Wooster College as the speaker. For a program at 2:30 p.m., the speaker will be Dr. Homer Vanderpool of the Grace Methodist Church of Dayton. Music for both services will be by a 115 voice choir, composed of member of the 11 churches in the Forest community. A lunch will be served at noon at the school cafeteria.

Dionne

Others who knew her also said she was a victim of epilepsy.

In Callander, a parish priest who acted as spokesman for her father, Oliva Dionne, said she died from a stroke. He said she had had a "weak spell" when she was 6.

"It was never diagnosed," he added, "but polio is out."

Emilie — at birth the second smallest of the sisters — was known as the most carefree of the five when they were youngsters. The girls celebrated their 20th birthdays together last May 28.

The four survivors — Yvonne, Marie, Cecile and Annette—as well as Emilie's parents and seven other brothers and sisters were reported deeply shocked at her untimely death.

"It is a terrible blow to us all," the father said last night. "She was very dear to us."

"I had a letter from her only yesterday," he added, "and she didn't give any indication in it that she was about to be seriously ill. She hadn't been quite herself during recent months — that is one of the reasons why she went to Ste. Agathe to rest and where the air is good — but we were not prepared for anything like this."

About two months ago Emilie came to the Lac Brule Hostel, which the Oblate Sisters of Mary Immaculate run for old folks.

Nurse Cecile Belleveau, who attended her during her last hours, said she had not been well during her stay, but was accepted as a prospective member of the Oblate Order.

Emilie, wearing the dark habit of the order, was seen strolling about the hostel grounds Thursday evening. That night, because she had difficulty getting to sleep, a sister slept with her in a second cot in her austere room.

Two attacks within a few hours weakened her, nurse Belleveau said, and in the morning she refused her breakfast.

At 9 a.m. she appeared to be sleeping. The sister who had been at her bedside went to Mass, thinking the girl was no longer in danger.

Returning, the sisters discovered she had suffered her third stroke. They summoned Dr. Albert Joannette from Ste. Agathe. He pronounced her dead when he reached her bedside about 10:30 a.m.

Her father, in Callander, announced the death during the afternoon.

He said the body will lie in the living room of the big Dionne house before the funeral. Mourners will be permitted to pay their respects, but curiosity seekers will not be admitted.

City To Honor Pilot Who Gave Life in Sacrifice

WANTAGH, N.Y. (AP)—Grateful families will gather in the middle of a street here tomorrow to honor an Air Force jet pilot who died in order to spare them tragedy.

They will stand at the edge of a wide, jagged hole in Denver Road where Capt. William Weiland crashed last Monday.

Eyewitnesses said he skillfully guided the crippled jet into the deserted street, avoiding rows of neat bungalow homes on either side. Had he bailed out, the abandoned plane would have been a serious menace to this town of 28,000 persons.

Even though he stayed with the plane, its crash and following explosion damaged 37 homes and injured six persons.

Local Traffic Problem To Be Topic on Program

"Marion's Traffic Problem" will be the topic on Marion Youth Forum Sunday over WMRN. The program, heard at 3 p.m., will have Arthur Busch, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Traffic Committee, as the guest.

Panel members will be Gilbert Herr, member of the city traffic commission, Dick Mull, Bob Knachel and Murray Leeper. Harold Fralich of the City Council will serve as moderator.

Garcia Whips Athletics 7-3; Yankees Shade Detroit

5-Run Burst Brings Tribe's Win; Feller To Pitch Today

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bob Feller, his string of seven victories snapped by the Boston Red Sox last week, makes his second try for his ninth triumph of 1954 today against Philadelphia's Athletics.

His opponent in this second contest of a four-game series with the A's will be John Gray, possessor of a 1-3 record.

The series opened auspiciously for the Indians last night as they bunched five runs in the second inning and whipped the Athletics, 7-3. The New York Yankees edged the Detroit Tigers, 4-3, and kept 1½ games behind the leading Tribesmen.

Mike Garcia, distributing eight hits to the A's, got credit for his 13th victory and fourth in a row over Philadelphia. The loser was Al Sima, chased during the Cleveland rally in the second inning. Cleveland collected 11 hits off Sima and two other pitchers.

The A's scored two runs on three straight hits off Garcia in the first inning. Joe De Maestri singled, Don Bollweg doubled and then Jim Finigan scored them with a single to center field.

Al Rosen started the second inning rally with a single and stole second. Singles by Dave Pope and Sam Dente scored Rosen and then Jim Hegan singled Pope across the plate.

Mario Fricano relieved Sima at that point and Garcia promptly singled to score Dente. The final run of the inning came as Larry Doby bounced into a forceout at second.

Philadelphia scored one in the fifth on Joe Astroth's single, a sacrifice and a single by Bollweg. The Indians snapped right back with a run in the same inning on Pope's walk, a stolen base and a single by Dente.

Doubles by Al Smith and Doby in the sixth accounted for the final Cleveland tally.

Gilmore Quits As Announcer, Blasts Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bob Gilmore assistant Cincinnati Redlegs sportscaster for the past five years and conductor of his own radio sports show, resigned last night saying the team "wanted a cheer leader instead of a reporter."

He told newsmen Gabe Paul, Redlegs general manager, demanded his dismissal because of a recent sportscast in which he criticized the sixth - place National League team's management and said it sometimes refused to answer reporters' questions.

Paul had no comment.

Gilmore said he resigned voluntarily "although dismissal or forced resignation would very likely have followed in a matter of months.

Waite Hoyt, chief broadcaster of the games over radio station WCPO, called Gilmore "a good assistant and an invaluable statistician who can't be beat."

Hoyt said "Paul has never put words in my mouth and never has told me what to say or not to say. But then I never criticize or editorialize . . . and I'm very optimistic.

J. L. Jones Wins Fifth Straight Richwood Race

J. L. Jones of Richwood won his fifth straight feature at the Richwood Speedway Thursday night. Jones was driving his new stock car for the first time in the strictly stock car racing.

Jim Hamilton, another Richwood driver, followed Jones across the finish line while Truman Redenbaugh of Delaware was third and Jim Herriott of Ostrander fourth.

Redenbaugh was winner of the first race with Charles Wilcox of Richwood second and Jones third. In the second event, Ralph Ray of Belle Center came in first and was trailed by Joe Erwin of Richwood, and Dick Baughman.

Jim Hamilton was winner of the third race with Walt Hamilton of the same community second and Don Trees of Marysville third. Trees crossed the finish line first in the winners handicap race with Erwin second and Walt Hamilton third.

In the consolation event, Dave Neidig came in first with Herriott second and Don Teets of Marysville third. Teets took the Australian pursuit with Jones and Walt Hamilton in the next positions.

Lancaster To Play Cincinnati Team in Legion's Tourney

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cincinnati and Lancaster teams fight today for a finals berth against undefeated Massillon in the American Legion junior baseball tournament here.

The winner meets Massillon at 2 p. m., EST, today. If Massillon wins it gets the championship; if it loses, the two teams play again tomorrow at Red Bird stadium.

Yesterday, Cincinnati defeated Celina, 13-3. Lancaster defeated Akron, 11-7.

Cincinnati and Lancaster each have lost one game in the double-elimination tournament.

Stock Car Racing Slated Sunday at Marion Oval

A large field of cars is expected at the Marion Speed Bowl for stock car racing Sunday night.

More new cars have been showing up each week, according to the new manager, Roy Hobson, who added that the track will be free of dust. Top drivers from Marion, Tiffin, Bucyrus, Richwood and the surrounding area are expected.

There will be three heat races, a winners handicap, two consolation events and a 25-lap feature at the Speed Bowl located five miles north of Marion just off Route 23.

Horvath, 7 Under Par, Leads Field

CHICAGO (AP)—Established pro stars still were stabbing feebly at the brass ring as the $25,000 All-American golf merry - go - round went into its third round at Tam O'Shanter today.

Halfway leader in the All-American which pays a modest $3,400 first money, compared with the World's $50,000, plus a $50,000 exhibition contract, was a lightly reckoned Canadian pro, Rudy Horvath.

Horvath with a seven-under-par 137 was a stroke ahead of three earnest, but not spectacular golfers—Pete Cooper, Jerry Barber and Australian Peter Thomson.

As a matter of fact, yesterday's second round firing by the men's pros produced only three scores better than a women's record 69 fashioned by the unconquerable Babe Zaharias.

Those were three 68's. They were fired by Cooper; Marty Furgol, notched fifth with 139; and Harry Ransom, jammed with nine others at 141.

It appeared that most of the more heralded pros were experimenting with the "gamble" shots they may have to use under the white-hot pressure of the spectacular World tourney.

Landy To Duel Bannister For British Empire Title

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — The miracle men of the mile, Roger Bannister and John Landy, tangle today for the British Empire title and both of them think the time will be very close to 4 minutes.

"I think I'll be getting down to four minutes if I'm to win," says Doctor Roger, the English interne who was first to crash the 4-minute barrier.

And Landy, Australia's national hero who claims the world record at 3 58 guesses "it certainly won't be much over 4 minutes, but perhaps 4 02 or 4 03 will win it. I don't think it will be under 4."

Although the world views this as a duel beteen Landy and Bannister one of the six others in the race could steal through to victory if the big stars falter. New Zealand's Murray Halbert is the most likely upset winner. Murray ran the fastest heat in the preliminaries Thursday at 4.07 4 and has done 4 04 4.

Asked why he set such a blistering pace in the qualifier, Halberg said seriously, "I just thought I needed the workout."

When the eight strong men line up at the starter's call at 4:40 p. m.—Eastern Standard Time—television cameras will flash the picture across the North American continent and radio will tell the story to the far corners of the globe.

Rain or shine—and the forecast calls for cloudy but dry weather at race time—a capacity crowd of 35,000 will jam Empire Stadium for the climax moment of the eight-day program.

First Evening Races Held at Crawford Fair

BUCYRUS — Elida, Westerville, Washington Court House and Perrysburg horses romped to victories in races at the Crawford County fair last night. A capacity crowd jammed the grounds to witness the first night racing ever held at the fair.

Fastest time of the night was a 2:05 effort by Dandy Dick, owned by D. J. Wilcox Sr of Westerville. The brown horse driven by D. J. Wilcox Jr won both heats of the Free-For-All-Pace in identical times of 2 05.

An Elida-owned horse, Tiny Volo, was winner of the three-year-old trot Harry Sanner, owner and driver, pushed the brown filly to wins in both heats with times of 2:11 3-5 and 2:10 1-5.

Darning, owned by Jackson Glove Manufacturing Stable of Washington Court House, was declared winner of the 16 class trot for stepping the distance in the fastest time, 2 09. Carley Jayzoff had won the first heat of the race in 2:11 2-5.

For stepping off his heat in 2:08 1-5, Swan Bay, black gelding owned by C. M. Saunders of Perrysburg, was declared winner of the three-year-old pace. The horse and Judy Haven traded positions in the next heat but Swan Bay's time was the fastest.

The final racing session featuring a 20-class pace and trot and 25 class pace and trot is scheduled tonight at the fairgrounds.

Carl's Beats Galion Nine Advances in Tournament

Carl's Auto Parts has advanced in district tournament softball play last night at Galion. The Marion entry blanked Perfection Steel Body of Galion, 2-0.

Sons of Herman of Mansfield shutout Westinghouse of Mansfield 12-0, and American Tower Vets of Shelby defeated Crestline Eagles, 5-1, in other games.

A Marion team, Mac's Trading Post, sees action in the tournament tonight. The local nine battles Gorman Rupp of Mansfield in the opener at 8 p.m. while Mansfield Pottery of Perrysville and VFW of Upper Sandusky play in the nightcap at 9.30 p.m.

Delaware Youth Loses In Boys' Tennis Final

A Delaware youth, Dick Hubbard, lost out in tennis play for the championship of northern Ohio yesterday at Lakeside.

Hubbard and John Stoneburner of Ashtabula were beaten by Don Schweitzer and Larry Biederman of Lima for the boys doubles championship, 6-4, 7-5.

Schweitzer, 18-year-old Washington, D. C, youth, won the boys' singles tennis championship by defeating Toby Perry of Cleveland in the finals, 6-1, 5-7, 6-3. A 16-year-old Toledo girl, Sue Crosby, won the girls singles title as she eliminated her twin sister, Sally, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.

Cincy Falls To 3-Hitter By Meyer

BROOKLYN (AP) — Russ Meyer, Brooklyn pitcher who had not been able to go the distance against the Cincinnati Redlegs in the last two years pitched three-hit ball last night.

The Bums' Jackie Robinson got as many hits as the entire Red team and led the Dodgers to a 8-1 triumph over the tiring Cincinnatians.

Doubles by Ted Kluszewski and Wally Post and a single by Roy McMillan were the only Cincinnati safeties. McMillan's one-bagger brought in Post in the fifth to spoil Meyer's shutout bid.

The victory, coupled with the New York Giant setback at the hands of the Braves, pushed the second - place Dodgers a game closer to the league-leading Giants.

Meyer walked only a pair of Reds the same number he set down on strikeouts.

Robinson drove in three runs with a homer and also contributed a single and double to the attack on Art Fowler, the loser.

Fowler's record dropped to 8-7 and Meyer's rose to 9-4.

The setback was the eighth in 10 eastern outings for the Reds.

Konno, Hawaii Youth To Duel In Swim Meet

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Bill Woolsey, a 19-year-old Hawaiian who is being called heir apparent to freestyle champion Ford Konno got another shot at his fellow islander in the National AAU swimming championships today after missing by about a finger's length yesterday.

They had identical times of 2 10 6 in the 200-meter freestyle but the judges ruled Konno shapped the wall first for his second victory of the four day meet. He repeated as 1,500-meter champion Thursday.

Konno, a 21-year-old Ohio State University student, and Woolsey, who'll be an Indiana University sophomore this fall, were to jump into Broad Ripple Pool again in the 400-meter freestyle. Konno is the defending champion but Woolsey beat him at the distance in Hawaii last month.

Woolsey, one of 12 children in a Hawaiian-German-English family, also was entered in the 100-meter freestyle today but there he probably was a little out of his depth against Richard Cleveland another Honolulu product who holds the American record of 56 4 seconds.

Barbara Stark of San Francisco, who set a new AAU record of 2 47.9 in the 200-meter backstroke Friday, went after a second title today in the 100-meter back which she won last year by 110 yards.

Brownies Eye Future, Obtain Packers' Parilli

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns, living in outguess selective service officials, have traded quarterback Bobby Garrett and received quarterback Babe Parilli in a six-player swap with the Green Bay Packers.

Garrett, the Stanford star who was the Browns' bonus draft choice should be able to get in a season of pro football before the armed forces beckon. Parilli, the former Kentucky passer who played with Green Bay in 1952 and 1953, is in the Army now and probably won't be available until the 1956 season.

As Cleveland Coach Paul Brown sees it, the trade "will help Green Bay this year and the Browns in the future." Specifically, it insures the Browns of having an experienced quarterback at a time when Otto Graham and George Ratterman may not be around, Brown said.

Graham, the Browns' star quarterback since 1946, has indicated he may retire at the end of this season or next. Ratterman is his understudy.

Also received by the Browns in the trade yesterday was Bob Fleck, the former Syracuse tackle. In addition to Garrett, the Packers got former SMU quarterback Don Miller, Maryland tackle Chet Gierula, and Johnny Bauer, the Browns' No 1 draft choice last season.

Braves Beat Giants

Grimm Says Team at Peak, Still Has Chance for Pennant

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sportswriter

Charley Grimm says he has the best team in the National League and he thinks it can win the pennant.

Even when confronted with figures which show he should be arrested for violating the law of averages if he's right, the Milwaukee manager maintains his confidence in his athletes.

The Braves are 8½ lengths back of the New York Giants with 49 games left.

"Sure we're pretty far behind," Grimm agrees. "But we're still definitely in the race and with 8 - most seven weeks to go we could do it.

"My team is playing at its peak for the season. We've had good pitching all along. Now the hitters are hepping out and that's why we're winning."

If the Giants maintain their current pace they will end up with a 98-56 record for the season. To catch up the Braves would need to win at least 40 of their remaining games. And then they still have to deal with the Brooklyn Dodgers, currently four games back of New York and 5½ in front of Milwaukee.

The Braves took a big step in the right direction last night by whipping the Giants 6-5. In doing so, they took some personal revenge on Johnny Antonelli who was shooting for his 12th straight victory.

Antonelli turned out to be the price package in the winter deal that sent outfielder Bobby Thomson from the Giants to the Braves. The lefthander had beaten his former mates twice before this season. Thomson is rounding into pinch hitting shape after being out since spring training with a broken ankle.

The Braves pounded Johnny for five runs on six hits and bounced him in the fourth inning. One more run off relief man Al Worthington was enough to allow them to withstand a home run barrage by the Giants. Al Dark hit a pair and Ray Katt and Dusty Rhodes hit one each but all four came with the bases empty.

Brooklyn capped Cincinnati 8-1, one of the few times recently that the Dodgers have been able to take advantage of the Giants' misfortunes. Philadelphia defeated Chicago 7-4 and the lowly Pittsburgh Pirates clapped down St. Louis twice, 7-3 and 6-5.

The pennant picture remained unchanged in the American League as all three contenders triumphed. Cleveland defeated Philadelphia 7-3, New York shaded Detroit 4-3 and Chicago trounced Washington 10-5.

Boston edged Baltimore 3-1 in 10 innings on Ted Williams' 20th home run with a man on base.

Russ Meyer and Jackie Robinson teamed up for the Brooklyn victory. Meyer pitched a three-hitter, his first complete game in Brooklyn this season, and Robinson drove in three runs on three hits, a home run double and single.

Curt Simmons of the Phillies outlasted the Cubs for his 10th victory. Two doubles by Bobby Morgan and a two-run triple by Richie Ashburn helped out.

Preston Ward drove in three runs in each Pittsburgh victory over the surprised Cardinals. He hit a homer with two aboard in the first and a three-run triple in the nightcap. Dick Littlefield stayed the distance for his seventh victory in the opener. A squeeze bunt by Stu Gordon with two out in the ninth brought home the deciding tally in the nightcap.

Cleveland won with ease over the Athletics as Mike Garcia registered his 13th triumph on an eight-hitter.

The Yanks did it the hard way at Detroit, coming from two runs behind on Gil McDougald's grand slam home run in the eighth. Bob Nieman made it close with a pinch homer in Detroit's half of the eighth off Johnny Sain but the bases were empty.

Virgil Trucks, still suffering with a bad back won his 16th of the season at the expense of the Senators but it took a five run rally by his mates in the eighth to give him the decision. Billy Pierce mopped up in the ninth. Nellie Fox led the 11-hit Chicago attack with a triple, double and two singles.

Drug Executive Bids for Control Over Athletics

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A Philadelphia drug store chain executive says he has a "group of men interested" in joining him in buying the Philadelphia Athletics "if the Mack family sells me every share of stock."

Harry Sylk said yesterday he will be willing to meet the "exact offer" of Arnold Johnson of Chicago who wants to buy the Athletics and move the team to Kansas City. Johnson's offer has been placed at 4½ million dollars.

"But I want every share of stock — complete control," Sylk said.

Sylk, who heads the Sun Ray Drug Co. chain, said he plans to meet with Roy Mack, executive vice president of the Athletics, on Tuesday "where we both can lay our cards on the table."

Roy also is seeking complete control of the club. He owns 28 per cent of the stock now.

Buying all the club's stock would mean purchasing shares held by Connie Mack Sr. (44 per cent) and his other son, Earle, who also holds a 28 per cent share.

Championship Games Set for Lincoln Park

Championship Pony League and Teen League contests are on tap tonight at Lincoln Park.

First round championship of the Pony League will be decided in the opener at 6 p.m. when G & G Homes and Alloy clash.

In the nightcap, Marion's two entries in the County Teen League, Fraternal Order of Police and Marion Indians get together for the first of a three-game series to decide the city championship in the 15-16 year old age group.

Record 69 Fired By Babe Zaharias

CHICAGO (AP)—Gallant Babe Zaharias, who 16 months ago underwent surgery for a critical cancer condition, is at the peak of her golf form today at the age of 39.

The stirring comeback of the beloved Babe, recognized as the greatest woman athlete of our time and perhaps all time, reached a sort of climax at Tam O'Shanter yesterday.

She cut seven strokes off women's par and three off the men's standard with a record-shattering 33-36—69. The sensational round, in which she never once strayed over men's par, shot here into a two-stroke 36-hole lead of the All-American women's pro division.

The sizzling 69 broke her own competitive course record of 36-34—70, set in the first round of the 1950 All-American tourney.

The Babe collected $1,500 for the effort, a prize confidently put up for grabs by promoter George S. May as an award for a new women's mark.

Versatile Material

Perforated Board Used In Kitchen, Other Rooms

By DAVID G BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

Perforated hardboard is one of the most interesting of the newer building materials Attractive in appearance it also is utilitarian in various ways

Manufactured out of compressed wood fibers, like standard hardboards, this material has evenly-spaced rows of holes into which a wide variety of patented hooks and brackets can be inserted In this way, perforated hardboard makes a working wall It can be used in the garage for hanging garden tools sleds and other equipment to keep the floor clear and uncluttered In the kitchen it can be used for hanging pots and pans and other utensils In living room and elsewhere it provides a multitude of opportunities for hanging shelves pictures potted plants and other decorative features

Builders of modern houses with wide overhanging eaves are using this perforated material to line the underside of such overhangs The holes provide added ventilation for under roof spaces

INSTALLATION of a panel of this material is a relatively simple operation for the home handyman The method to be used is determined primarily by the panel's size and its intended function

Take for example a typical kitchen installation where there is a wall area near the range The homemaker may decide on a panel four feet long and three feet wide placed horizontally Since the metal hooks used for hanging articles require a certain amount of clearance for insertion and removal the panel must be mounted at least ¼ inch away from the wall An exception would be in new construction or in an unfinished garage where the panel is to be mounted directly on the studs

The easiest way to provide this clearance for a panel up to four by six feet is to install vertical strips of wood ¾ inch wide at intervals of 16 inches on centers on the back of the panel Each strip is allowed to extend to points one inch from the top and bottom edges These strips are easily glued to the hardboard with standard plywood glue The strips are placed between rows of holes so as not to interfere with the use of the holes To help the glue set a few brads are hammered into the strips from the face of the panel

BY PLACING the strips 16 inches on centers the usual distance from the center of one wall stud to another it is a simple matter to fasten the panel securely to the wall by using long screws that will penetrate into the studs

On a four by three foot panel in the kitchen screws should be used at about six-inch intervals through the strips near outer edges and at one foot intervals on inside strips This will result in a strong working wall

On panels larger than four by six feet it is wise to back the entire perimeter by a framework of ¾ inch lumber

PERFORATED PANELS can be cut and worked with ordinary carpenter's tools A crosscut saw — fine tooth preferred — will cut the material in any direction since there is no grain in hardboard

In applying ⅛ inch thick perforated panels to furring strips always use both brads and woodworking glue First spread the glue on the framing members or furring strips Locate them on the panel and starting at the center fasten with 16 gauge brads spaced six inches on intermediate supports and four inches around the edges When possible depending on the thickness of the furring strips brads should penetrate one inch into the nailing base To conceal the brads countersink each one and fill the holes with wood putty

Because of heavy equipment that may be hung on working walls in a garage or workshop specifications recommend panels ¼ inch thick This thickness also is more resistant to bumps and other hard usage

HOW TO INSTALL perforated hardboard—a diagram showing a panel cut away to reveal furring strips against the plastered wall, with vertical strips falling directly over studs to provide a strong nailing base

NEW ANCHOR KIT substitutes for furring strips when mounting peg board on a concrete wall The metal plate shown at the left is cemented to the wall with a special adhesive The perforated board is then bolted to the projecting collar The holes in the plate give the adhesive a lathing bond

Dodge Expert Lists Building Award Trends

NEW YORK — Encouraging activity in construction contract awards for commercial buildings single family homes and schools were among the outstanding trends in the first half of 1954 according to a mid-year review by George Cline Smith economist for F W Dodge Corporation

Disclosing details of Dodge statistics Smith stated that contract awards thus far this year reflect a high rate of payroll and purchase in the enormous construction industry for at least the remainder of 1954

'Since construction contract awards precede actual construction Dr Smith said the record levels of awards during the first half of 1954 indicate that construction activity during the remainder of the year at least will take very high levels

'This will be reflected directly in construction employment and payrolls and in sales and shipments of construction materials Indirectly the effect will spread through other fields of activity as a powerful upward force since this 35 billion-dollar a year industry is one of the mainstays of the nation's economy

Dodge previously announced that its first half total of contract awards reported was 17 per cent ahead of the corresponding total for 1953 an all time high for a first half

Range Buying Tips Given to Homemakers

New Features of Gas, Electric Models Have Windows, Stove Grills

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Do you know what to look for when you shop for a range? There are many important things to be considered. The proper evaluation of them will give you longer service, economical usage and a better planned kitchen.

First—decide whether you want gas or electricity. This is sized up by the cost of the various utilities in your neighborhood. As a basis of comparison, experts tell us the range used by an average size family (three or four people) would use approximately:

Manufactured gas — 1,000 to 2,500 cubic feet per month.

Electricity — About 100 kilowatt hours

Bottled gas — 25 to 50 pounds.

Natural gas — between 900 and 1,400 cubic feet.

An electric range requires 230 volt wiring and it must be on a circuit of its own.

The insides of some ranges are finished off in aluminized steel which may discolor under heat, making it harder to keep clean. Other ranges have stainless steel innards although they cost a little more. Many ranges have porcelain enamel inside as well as out.

An American Gas Association seal of approval signifies that a stove has met important basic requirements regarding safety of design and other minimum standards of performance. A Certified Performance approval means that in addition to AGA requirements extra features have been incorporated in the design of the stove intended to enhance its usefulness.

Decide whether you want a pilot light. It may cost you approximately $6.80 a year to operate, twice that much if bottled gas is used.

You'll see lots of new features in gas stoves—deep-well cookers, top of stove grills, automatic timers, oven windows, warming ovens, separate broiler and oven pilot — but before you decide on these gimmicks, make up your mind whether the added expense is worth it.

If you decide on an electric stove, you'll see Rod-type of oven heating units, said to be immune to spilled foods, rust and corrosion. Some models have these hinged to one corner, so that they may easily be swung up for easy cleaning. Many electric ranges now have five or seven positions of heat, instead of three. An Underwriter's Laboratories label means the range was inspected and approved for fire safety.

The spiral coiled top of your electric stove heating element should be flat so that there is good contact between the element and the bottom of your pans. Switches should be where they are easily seen, not placed low behind the cooking area.

Whether you buy gas or electric look for these features:

1. Top burner placement to suit your working habits.

2 Range burners and oven tracks that are level. Check by putting one-eighth inch of water in a cake tin, and setting it on each top burner and on the oven rack in several positions. If water flows to one side, don't buy the stove.

3. Oven rack stops built into oven sides so racks that are pulled out either to place or to remove food will not tip.

4. Smokeless broiler which drains fats and greases from heat zone, prevents spattering.

5. Drip pans under burners that prevent spattering, such as porcelain enamel.

6. Oven doors should have an "ajar" position to hold the door open while broiling

7. Reliable manufacturers should give you a five-year warranty on the unit, including an unconditional guarantee on the complete range for the first year.

8. Think before you buy a range in color. If you are likely to get bored with it easily or like to paint your kitchen every few years, white is probably your best bet.

9. Insist on a demonstration of the stove. Learn how to replace fuses controlling signal lights and timer. You'll save many calls to the repairman.

VANITY LAVATORIES

Vanity lavatories are replacing mirrored dressers in some modern homes. Vanity lavatories offer all the conveniences of the dresser — counter area, drawer space, and a wide expanse of mirror — plus the added advantage of a modern lavatory with hot and cold water. They are a beautiful addition to the bedrooms of any home, and a practical convenience to women who can freshen up, wash their hair, put on make-up, etc., without tying up the bathroom.

One of the advantages of the highly water impervious latex paint film is its use as a vapor barrier.

YOUR HOME . . . Today and Tomorrow

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Some houses look well with a flagstone path, others with a plain gravel or bluestone path. Many houses may look their best with a clean concrete walk or where the owner does not want the trouble of constantly raking, edging and weeding. The cost of having concrete work done these days is rather high, and it seems that no matter how small the work may actually be the contractor makes a project out of it and the bill is in proportion to the fuss.

Laying a concrete walk is a very simple matter. First, stretch guide lines from the house steps to the road or sidewalk; the width is a matter of the homeowner's choice. Next, dig out the turf to a depth of three or four inches. If drainage is good, the concrete mix can be poured right on the earth.

If poor, lay a sub-bed of gravel or cinders tightly tamped to provide drainage and prevent heaving in winter. Wood strips are laid and well staked to the height of your walk, allowing for a pitch of ¼-inch to the foot for drainage. Also set wood strips crosswise which allow for expansion in summer.

This also enables the job to be laid in sections as time permits. Lay the strips with precision since the top edges act as a guide across which a straightedge is worked to screed off the concrete surface.

The actual mixing of the concretee is an important matter and the value of the walk will depend on the mix. The best mix will be in these proportions: one of cement, two of clean sand and four of gravel or crushed stone. Use only enough water to make the mix workable.

When the ingredients are assembled they should be thoroughly dry-mixed and then the water added and the batch turned and turned. Before pouring the concrete oil the wood forms to make removal easy.

The work should be covered with burlap, old cloths or hay and kept damp for three or four days for curing before it is uncovered and walked over.

First Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Q: The chimney in my 25-year-old house runs down through the middle of the building. When they finished off the basement, plaster was applied about 1-16 of an inch thick; it was then painted. The chimney is of cinder blocks and has a few cracks in it, which I want to repair by coating with a half-inch of mortar. How can I remove the paint and plaster so that mortar will stick and hold?

A: The plaster will have to be chipped off with a hammer and wide blade chisel. After most of it has been taken off, wire brush the surfaces to remove the remainder of the plaster and expose a clean cinder block surface.

Q: I have a walnut piano with several coats of varnish on it and I would like to black lacquer it. Is there some kind of paint I could use to cover this finish without removing the varnish?

A: If the present finish is in good condition wash off all traces of wax and polish with turpentine and "000" steel wool. Rub the surface hard enough to remove the gloss of the varnish. If after removing the wax and polish there is a substantial amount of gloss remaining, rub the surfaces with "00" sandpaper and wipe off the dust. Lacquer in any form cannot be used over paint or varnish because it will have a solvent effect on the old finish, spoiling the apperance. However, you can get flat black enamels and paints that will give you the effect you desire.

Q: How can I remove varnish from asphalt tile? It has been put on instead of wax and is partly worn off

A: Anything that will remove varnish is likely to have a damaging effect on the asphalt. The following procedure may effectively remove the varnish with a minimum effect on the floor covering. Dissolve three pounds trisodium phosphate or washing soda in each gallon of water and when the varnish becomes softened take it off with steel wool and more of the solution. To prevent the above solution from penetrating too deeply into the tile, work in small sections and rinse well with clear water.

Q: We have an entrance porch which is enclosed and the floor is raised about thirty inches from the ground. I would like to cover it with asphalt or plastic tile and want to be sure this can be done. Or, will the dampness from the ground loosen the tiles?

A: If the air space under the porch is thoroughly ventilated the floor can be covered with asphalt or any other composition tile. If there is any doubt about the dryness, cover the ground with a moisture and vaporproof paper, overlapping the sheets about six inches and cementing the joints with roof cement. The paper should also be lapped onto the surrounding walls for the same distance.

Q: We have about a three-inch hole ripped out of one plaster wall where lath shows through. How can this be fixed?

A: Such holes can be filled quite simply with patching plaster, because the lath will hold the plaster satisfactorily. If the lath is wood, sprinkle it with water first so that it will not absorb water from the new patching plaster. The patch can be smoothed level with the rest of the wall.

Q: Could you please tell me how to remove a decal from a porcelain sink?

A: Use a white blotter or several thicknesses of facial tissues and saturate it with water. Leave this on for a half hour or so, keeping the covering thoroughly wet. Then remove the tissue or blotter and lift off the decal with the edge of a knife blade. Some hardware and paint stores have a specially treated blotter-like cardboard that could be used in place of the above.

WOOD BLEACH

Sometimes when you take off the old finish from a piece of furniture with paint-and-varnish-remover, the wood is still dark from the original stain. If you wish the wood to be lighter still—so it will harmonize with newly-bought light wood pieces—you can use a bleach.

Come in and see the new
Seal-O-Matic Shingles

HERE'S THE SECRET
The sun's heat seals the tabs automatically because of this special factory-applied asphalt cement strip on the underside of each shingle
These new Johns-Manville Shingles hold tight in high winds because they are self sealing!
Here is the most important contribution to roofs for homes and farm buildings in the last 20 years . . . a roof of traditional shingle design that is self sealing. The sun's heat causes these amazing shingles to seal themselves down at the butt edge and grip the shingles underneath with bulldog tenacity . . . they defy even high winds to pry them loose. Seal-O-Matic Shingles are available in the popular Thick Butt style in many colors and blends. Stop in and let us demonstrate them to you. Ask for a free estimate.

Growing Pains

Late Vegetable, Flower Planting Called Possible

By ALBERT S FULLING
Associated Press Writer

If you think the planting season is over—think again

This applied to flowers vegetables, trees shrubs bulbs and kindred species

While you are weeding spraying and picking the fruits of your spring sowing you still can go ahead with more planting and extend your home harvest festival

Take vegetables — (they're easy to take)

Did you envy the neighbor's asparagus bed this year? Just put in yours in the latter part of August The directions will come with the roots

HAVE YOU been enjoying your bush beans? If so keep planting them right up until the middle of August (For good germination plant the eye of the seed downward)

Endives can be put into the ground until early August • kale till midsummer for fall and winter crop . . kohlrabi till early August lettuce in August for the cooler growing season for radishes try the early spring type such as Scarlet Globe from about the beginning of August until September 1 plant some spinach in late September or October protect it with salt hay over the winter and you'll be the first one with spinach in the spring

IF YOU HAVE fruits such as raspberry or blackberry and want to spread them try layering the tip—a clothespin helps Fasten it down to the ground

In the flower department you're in business in late summer

Take biennials—they're the ones that produce leaf growth the first year and bloom the next

THESE INCLUDE the English daisy which you put out early in August in flats or frames . . . forget me nots planted in late July or early August (they prefer a damp woody soil but will do fairly well anywhere in the garden) . . hollyhocks should be planted late in July or early in August and if you plan any transplanting do it while the seedlings are small because they develop a good sized taproot . . pansy seeds should be sown in August and you'll have to winter them over in cold frames If you don't have one now is a good time to build one

And of course there are perennials This might be termed a perennial subject but in subsequent columns we'll try to give you a general idea for they are beautiful additions to your garden

MOST OF THEM go into the ground a little later in the season than plants discussed today

When you're already established in the garden or perhaps hoping to get some more planting done you don't have to wait until spring

You can do a real job for yourself these summer days—either in finishing up the season or preparing for the next.

Building Permits

Six building permits for a total valuation of $31 595 were issued at the Marion City Clerk's office during the week from July 30 through August 5 This was a decrease from the previous week when 13 permits for a valuation of $16 400 were issued The permits were

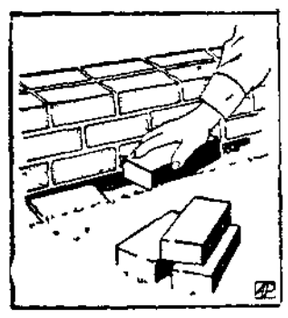
Brick Row



ELIMINATE hand trimming of lawns along walls and flower beds by laying a row of bricks flush with the soil This will provide a wheel track for your lawn mower and bring the blade to the edge of the grass Better Homes and Gardens suggests laying the bricks on sand or a mortar base for permanence

DRIPLESS TANK

With much of the country already suffering from high humidities it is good news that a manufacturer of water closets is offering a tank which will not drip from condensation says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau The tank is made of vitreous china molded into one piece The water capacity is the same as with a conventional tank and the new unit is available in white and four pastel colors

Lacquers are film forming finishes which dry by solvent evaporation

Group Advises Uniform Home Temperatures

Association Believes Even Heat Important In Maintaining Health

Keeping our homes warm enough is an important consideration in our plans for the autumn and winter months ahead of us—but uniformity of that temperature hour in and hour out also bears a close relationship to steadfast maintenance of our health and comfort

This pronouncement recently was made by the American Public Health Association in a bulletin called Basic Principles of Healthful Housing which calls emphatic attention to the necessity of holding interior temperatures as even as possible from wall to wall and from floor to ceiling

No temperatures are ideal says the bulletin unless they can be held reasonably constant when desired regardless of unpredictable changes in the weather

In another reference to the heating of individual rooms the association amplifies

With ideal heating it says ankle height temperatures and five foot temperatures would be almost identical Unfortunately however temperatures at ankle height are often 65 degrees Fahrenheit with 70 degrees at five foot levels and 80 degrees at ceiling height a total differential of 15 degrees In very poorly heated homes differentials of 30 degrees and more have been observed

The publication also points out that this uniform vertical heat is especially needful in homes that have children in the family—because if they are not actually playing on the floor as they frequently do children are naturally built closer to the ground than grown ups and of course deserve the same thermal comfort as their elders Growing young bodies in fact are even more susceptible than adults to the little ills and physical upset which can be brought about by uneven erratic indoor temperatures

In suggesting practical steps to achieve this up-and-down wall to wall uniformity of warmth the Public Health Association continues

Insulation as normally used for heating economy has a particularly beneficial effect in reducing temperature gradients or differentials from floor to ceiling Customary differentials ranging from 10 degrees to 20 degrees from floor to ceiling in an uninsulated house may be reduced below 10 degrees when insulation is installed

The association also has other endorsements for proper insulation Superior types of construction it says weather stripping and the use of insulating materials in ceilings and walls may in cold weather reduce heating costs by 50 per cent or more

Facts on Tags Guide Women In Purchases

Brand Name, Product Description Helpful in Buying Merchandise

The many new materials on the market have made women more tag conscious They look for informative tags on articles to guide them in selection and maintenance of various articles rather than querying sales people and forgetting their advice and instructions

Informative tags supply brand name identify style or type of item describe color tell what the product is made of and exlain the importance of it to the potential consumer note specifically outstanding workmanship and quality explain the uses of the item and provide instructions for the product's care Most times these tags give the name of the store price of the article and approximate delivery date if the merchandise is on order

The woman who does her laundry at home for instance wants her sheets to be durable but she is not so interested in the weight of sheets as the woman who sends her sheets to the laundry paying by the pound

These housewives will make their choice probably from two different lines of sheets The percale informative tag will show the thread count to be 104 x 98 weight per square yard to be 3.9 ounces and the breaking strength to be 65 pounds both warpwise and fillingwise The one on the second sheet a heavy weight muslin shows the thread count to be 76 x 70 the weight per square yard to be 4.9 ounces and the breaking strength to be 75 pounds both warpwise and fillingwise The lighter weight percale is often chosen by the woman with laundry costs in mind

Furniture is bought to greater advantage through the informative tag medium employed now by more than 50 per cent of manufacturers brands

A woman shopping for a living room chair encounters one that is tagged

'Beautiful sturdy chairs Were $110 — Now priced at $80 Limited selection Buy now'

That tag does not give her the information she seeks Even though the chair is reduced $30 and it sounds like a good 'buy" She knows nothing about it If she knew exactly what the chair represented she would be in a better position to judge whether it is a bargain or not

Another display reads like this

"French Provincial style Curled hair construction Rayon tapestry cover—blue green red gray Reversible cushion — down and goose feathers — Price $80 Allow 10 days for delivery'

A tag such as that answers questions an average woman would try to garner from the salesperson It enables her to choose according to value and quality buying a chair that is suited to her needs and within her budget

Bungalow Purchased North of Marion

MR. AND MRS WALLACE PATTON recently purchased the home of Rev and Mrs Charles Lipker on U S 23 just north of the Chapel Heights Cemetery A six room ranch type bungalow with breezeway and full basement, the home is in the $18 000 to $22 000 class The transaction was made by Mrs Nellie McCleary, realtor.

Henry County Considers Soil Conservation Unit

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) — Henry County wants to find out whether there is need for a soil conservation district in the county The county has petitioned the Ohio Soil Conservation Committee which in the near future will set a date for a hearing on the question

Ohio now has 84 county wide soil conservation districts If the committee approves the request it will have a local sponsoring group conduct a referendum of landowners on the question

A district can be formed if 65 per cent of those voting favor one and if the state committee decides enough persons to express an opinion took part in the voting

The U S Soil Conservation Service has assigned soil conservationists to help farmers in the 84 county districts

Most American Homes To Get Paint Touch-Up

Eighty Per Cent Seen Receiving New Coats In Summer Weather

Countless householders today are breaking out paint brushes for a summer painting spree

Indoors and outdoors young and old men and women—color conscious Americans again this year have their own 'new look' program under way Probably eighty per cent of the nation's homes will benefit to some degree from what seems to be an almost universal urge to wield a paint brush

An annual event this summertime love affair with paint and paint brushes is big business Home handymen spent more than half a billion dollars last year for these items a large part of it during summer months

To secure satisfactory results in all this painting experts point out that proper application of any type of paint is absolutely essential The importance of using the right paint brush for the job to be done is emphasized by the National Bureau of Standards

A basic set of five brushes is recommended by the Bureau for ordinary household paint jobs

Such a set would include Sash brush probably one to two inches wide one and a half or two inch varnish brush two and-one half to three inch varnish or enamel brush two wall brushes probably three to five inches wide

It is important that these brushes be cared for properly

Pointing out that a paint brush should be treated with the same consideration as any other good tool the Paint and Varnish Brush Division of the American Brush Manufacturers Association lists the following tips for home handymen

1 Before using a new brush tap bristles across edge of a board Remove all loose bristles that appear at end of brush

2 Never stand brushes wet or dry on their bristles If the bristles set in a curve a brush's efficiency may be impaired

3 Don't permit paint to cover more than half the length of bristles when dipping brush in paint Deeper dipping wastes paint and permits it to accumulate in heel of brush

4 When charging brush with paint don't rub bristles over edge of container to remove excess paint Instead tap bristles lightly against inside of container

5 'Break in' new brushes on first coats This will increase pliability and elasticity of bristles actually improving quality of brush for later finishing coats

6 Always clean brushes after each use Allowing them to stand loaded with paint or other finish makes eventual cleaning more difficult

East Pakistan Hit by Floods

3,000 Evacuated From Principal City

DACCA East Pakistan (AP) — More than 3 000 persons have been evacuated from Dacca in the past 24 hours as flood waters swirled through the city and crumbled about 500 homes to rubble

Dacca, the principal city of East Pakistan is cut off from the rest of the province The floods the worst within memory have poured over roads and rail lines and still show no signs of subsiding

KARACHIA Pakistan (AP) — East Pakistan hit by the worst floods in living memory may get some emergency assistance from the United States, a reliable source said today

Soviet Plans To Remove East Germany Controls

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia announced last night it was lifting economic and cultural controls over East Germany to strengthen the state's sovereign status

The Soviet government said however it expected East Germany to keep in mind its obligations stemming from Four Power agreements for peaceful and democratic development

The Russians declared their recognition of East Germany as fully sovereign last March 25

(The State Department in Washington labeled the March 25 move granting 'sovereignty' a phoney gesture)

Hectic 5 Days

Stock Market Declines In Up-and-Down Week

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined this week in the most hectic five sessions in more than three years.

On Monday and Tuesday, the market appeared to be headed for its eighth consecutive weekly advance. Proposed mergers in the steel industry, reorganization of several railroads and record earnings by aircraft companies combined to push many stock prices to their highest levels since 1929.

Wednesday Begins Big

Wednesday started off like another record - breaker with aircrafts, steels and railroads in the lead of the advance. But then rumors began to filter through Wall Street brokerage houses that the Bethlehem Steel merger with Youngstown Sheet & Tube was falling through.

Profit-taking started among the steels and spread throughout the rest of the market. The high speed ticker tape fell behind for half an hour and prices tumbled. But such was the vigor of the market, helped mainly by demand for medium and low priced issues, that a recovery movement that day carried the market back almost to where it had begun.

Wednesday proved to be a crucial session in the week's developments because it produced a more cautious attitude on the part of many investors. They saw their profits of the past few weeks wiped away in a half hour. Those profits reappeared by the end of the day. But it must have been a thought provoking session to many.

On Thursday, the market became highly selective. Profit taking appeared among the high priced stocks. But buying of medium and low priced issues was plentiful enough to produce a completely mixed close.

Chrysler Cuts Divided

After the market closed Thursday, the nation's third major automobile maker, Chrysler Corp., cut its dividend in half. Admittedly this was bad news, though financial circles were not taken by surprise. The stepped-up competition in the auto industry has been well advertised It was just the sort of news that the market had been ignoring nearly two months.

Friday morning, sell orders for Chrysler poured into brokerage houses. Rumors passed between brokers that there were as many as 15 or 20 thousand orders to sell this traditionally stable security The ticker tape run late for two brief periods as investors hurried to take profits.

When Chrysler opened nearly three hours after the start of business at 60¼ off 4⅝ points on 35,000 shares, another selling wave took place. This time the tape was late for 35 minutes and prices fell two, three and four points. Late in the afternoon, prices began to improve But the market couldn't muster the buying power for another recovery.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off $1.40 on the week at $131 80. Industrials and railroads were the cause of the decline. Utilities remained steady.

Volume for the week totaled 15,943,400 shares compared with 13,049,021 last week. It was the busiest week since that of Jan. 20, 1951, when 18,220,000 shares changed hands.

The five most active issues this week on the New York stock exchange were: Avco Mfg. up ⅞ at 6⅝ on 238,000 shares; Glenn Martin up 2 at 28½ on 230,700 shares; Curtiss Wright up ⅜ at 12½ on 229,300 shares; General Dynamics up 5⅜ at 67⅛ on 211,500 shares and Chrysler off 3½ at 59⅛ on 208,400 shares.

FHA Chapter at Pleasant Plans Swimming Party

New freshmen and their mothers were guests at a mother-daughter picnic held Wednesday by the Pleasant FHA chapter.

During a business meeing following the picnic, it was decided to have a swimming party at the Delaware pool Monday with a box supper to follow.

Mrs. Jane White, chapter advisor, announced that grading of projects would be August 10 at 9 a.m. at the school.

Lamb Charges FCC Officials Smearing Him

Denies Allegations He Associated With Reds or Red Fronts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward Lamb of Toledo, publisher and radio-television station owner, has charged that "certain persons" on the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) use "smear and run" tactics.

Denies Charge

Lamb, in a statement denying an FCC charge yesterday that he once "knowingly" associated with Communists and contributed funds to the Communist Party, remarked:

"The whole tactics of certain persons on the FCC has been to smear and run Lacking evidence, they have sought to convict by headlines.

"The interstate commerce committee of the U S Senate, under the chairmanship of John Bricker, unanimously urged that the FCC give me some specifications and the names of those anonymous accusers who made false charges against me.

"Now they issue, with wide publicity, a lot of silly charges without giving a single name or a single act to apprise us of their general charges. They say that I was a member of four organizations in the early 1940s. It was almost eight years later before such organizations were placed upon Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath's subversive list.

"How far from fair play can these folks get?

Offers Reward

"I reaffirm every non-Communist affidavit I ever uttered. I offered a reward of $10,000 to anyone who could disprove my non-Communist affidavit. I am proud of my anti-Communist activities which have been recognized by congratulatory letters from J. Edgar Hoover and many others."

FCC Broadcast Bureau chief, Curtis B. Plummer, yesterday gave Lamb a "resume of basic allegations" in connection with the FCC's investigation to determine whether it should renew the license of Lamb's television station in Erie, Pa., WICU. Lamb also publishes the Erie Dispatch.

Crawford Common Pleas Court Cases Assigned by Judge

BUCYRUS — Assignment of 30 chancery cases and 25 jury cases was announced here by Common Pleas Judge John C. Carroll for the September term of Crawford County Common Pleas Court. The grand jury is scheduled to meet Oct. 4 to 6

The $50,000 action for money of Fred J. Oehler, Bucyrus as administrator of the estate of his wife, Viola, against Albert McConnell, Galion, will be heard before a jury Oct. 7-8. Oehler's wife was killed in a two-car collision, east of Bucyrus, on July 20, 1953.

The $35,000 action of John Landis, Shelby, against Arthur J. Bittikofer, Bucyrus, will go before a jury, Oct. 14 and 15. Landis alleges he was injured when Bittikofer hired him to pull his tractor from the berm to the highway.

Crestline

Miss Carole Arleen Dillon, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Delphia D. Dillon of Cleveland and formerly of Crestline, and William Ferris Lockhart, son of Mr. and Mrs F. W. Lockhart of Crestline, exchanged wedding vows Saturday, July 31, at 8 p.m. at the Beachland Presbyterian Church, Cleveland. The bride's father, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

Miss Sue Maloby of Crestline presided at the organ and Robert Waterfield of Cleveland was soloist. Given in marriage by her oldest brother, Dwight, the bride wore a white floor-length gown fashioned with a bodice of Chantilly lace over taffeta with long sleeves extending to points over her hands. Attached to the fitted bodice was the full pleated skirt of nylon tulle net over taffeta. Her fingertip veil of white silk illusion was attached to a tiara of lace and seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Barbara Dillon, Cleveland, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Mary Ellen Lockhart, the bridegroom's sister, and Miss Betty Dillon, youngest sister of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. Donald Markley of Plymouth served as best man while Wendell Dillon, of Cleveland, brother of the bride, and Carl Ohmeiss, Cleveland, were ushers. Michele Koepp of Cleveland was flower girl.

A reception was held at the Presbyterian Manse following the ceremony.

The bride, a Collinwood High School graduate, attended Crestline High School for three years and Ohio University, Athens. 1—ANNOUNCEMENTS

1-B—IN MEMORIAMS

IN MEMORY of my husband, A. L. Wood, who passed away one year ago today.
Mrs. Wood.

IN MEMORY of Elza Hosler who passed away two years ago this Aug. the 7th
Two years have passed and gone
Since the one we loved so well
Was taken from our home on earth
With Jesus Christ to dwell
No one knows how much we miss him
You live with us in memory and will forever more.
So sadly missed by
Wife and Mother

IN REMEMBRANCE of Charles W. Jones who passed away August 7, 1937.
What would I give to clasp his hand,
His happy face to see,
To hear his voice and see his smile,
That meant so much to me.
Wife and Children.

FOR SECURITY

Security eases one's way as life wears on. A part of that security should be a family lot chosen before the need arises.

For convenience permanency and beauty that lot should be in the Marion Cemetery

OUR'S IS NOT A "WHISTLE-STOP" CAMPAIGN

NO SIR-EE! . . . . WE DON'T BREEZE AROUND ONCE IN FOUR YEARS, ASKING YOUR SUPPORT AND CONFIDENCE . . . . WE MAKE A BID FOR THAT CONFIDENCE EVERY WEEK.

Our Campaign is carried on 52 weeks a year and the confidence and support we get is merited by the SERVICE we render to our "constituents."

We don't ask support on "promises" but on past performances.

Automobile owners in and around Marion know they can depend on The Ripley Motor Co. service whether a minor check-up job, or one of major proportions.

DID YOU HEAR WHAT CLARISSE SAID, KAREN? IT WAS NOT YOU WHO INJURED HEIDI!
YES, REX! I HEARD HER··· BUT WHY··· WHY DIDN'T SHE TELL ME···
THE TRUTH IS THAT A FALL PROBABLY HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH HEIDI'S HANDICAP! RARELY IS CEREBRAL PALSY CAUSED BY AN INJURY AFTER BIRTH!
YOU AND HEIDI ARE GOING TO STAY HERE, KAREN! YOUR CHILD··· LIKE MOST CEREBRAL PALSIED CHILDREN··· CAN BE HELPED!

We Are Proud To Report That . . .
We Have Sold and Delivered
MORE NEW and USED CARS
SO FAR THIS YEAR THAN ANY OTHER DEALER IN MARION OR MARION COUNTY
(According to Records taken from the Marion County Clerk of Courts Office)
HERE IS THE REASON:
YES, THERE IS A REASON—We're tops in New Cars because we have the finest Buick ever built with a Delivered Price in Marion starting at $2,247.00 and, of course, with such a popular new car as Buick we get the Cream of the Crop in trade-ins. All of the Used Cars on our Big Used Car Lot have been thoroughly reconditioned in the Newly Constructed Service Garage located on our Used Car Lot by factory trained mechanics and body men, and all cars are priced way below the going market prices and, of course, we offer the lowest Finance Rates available and all Post-War Cars carry our Famous Guarantee In Writing — The Same Guarantee We Have Used For Over A Quarter of A Century . . . Drive out today or tonight (we're open till 9 p.m. Every Night Except Saturday and Sunday) and look these cars over—You will be surprised at the buys you will find. Better still, bring your title with you and Drive away in one of these Guaranteed Cars Listed Below. We Offer Complete On-the-Spot-Financing — No Red Tape.

Projector Assists In X-Ray Studies

ROCHESTER N Y — (UP) — A new slow motion stop-action movie projector designed primarily to aid in the interpretation of X-ray motion picture studies of the human heart has been developed at the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry

The projector, designed by radiology experts, has a remote pushbutton control, can be instantly reversed, and permits projection at film speeds as low as six frames per second without flicker almost three times slower than the normal projection speed of 16 frames per second

Advantages of the projector include better light intensity and longer projection without danger of burning the film

The projector makes it possible to take ordinary motion pictures and project them in slow motion Although slow motion pictures can be made of shooting at speeds greater than the normal camera speed this is not always possible because of poor light conditions The new projector overcomes this difficulty in X-ray motion picture photography since not only must X-rays be used sparingly because of apparatus limitation but where it is desirable to hold the patient dose as low as possible

DRINKS UP

LONDON (INS) — The new drunks of Britain (or the boys and girls under 21 the Economic Research Council reported that drunkenness among this age group is increasing at a startling rate Drunk convictions against girls have jumped more than 80 per cent during the past four years Those against boys went up 102 per cent

MORMON DANCING

LONDON (INS) — What the British call Mormon Dancing is catching on fast in the nation's ballrooms even among serious dancers This dancehall novelty in which the male dances with two girls at the same time is heralded as the perfect answer to the shortage of partners problem If a girl can't find a partner she just strings along behind in their girl

DARK DANGER

NEW YORK (INS) — Nearly two thirds of all fatal accidents occur between 6 p m and 6 a m yet traffic for these 12 hours is only one third of the total recording to Universal CIT Credit Corporation, the auto financing firm A large percentage of night time traffic deaths come in a single hour—from midnight to 1 a m

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Prayer in a Gasoline Station

Out in the Southwest U S Highway 77 disappears like a river of silver into the sunset As it goes by it passes a little town in Oklahoma Today one of the most important spots in that town is Erwin Tucker's gasoline station

DR PEALE

I learned about Erwin Tucker and his gas station from an article written for the magazine Guideposts of which I am the editor The gas station looks like many others on any U S Highway any place in this country of ours But there is one thing about it that is very different This is a filling station where you can fill not only the tank of your car with gas and its engine with oil but you can also fill your mind your heart and your soul with courage and faith

Erwin Tucker came back to Oklahoma from World War II with a lot of unanswered questions about life in his mind Always a genuine honest man he describes himself however as 'knowing all the answers" He remembers himself as spiritually seeking for deeper understanding Married and the father of children he still could not find true peace of mind He kept looking for something he couldn't seem to find

THEN ONE DAY, listening to the radio he heard a preacher say that a man could take God as a partner At first when he thought about it the idea struck him as queer different strange How could a man take Almighty God as a partner? But the idea stuck in his mind and somehow he began to live with God and feel a presence which gave him both peace and satisfaction

Then he began to think about something else he had heard on the radio, this time from a Catholic priest Father Peyton "The family that prays together stays together" So he put up a small altar in his house and gathered his family about it every morning and evening to talk to God their partner

Word of Erwin Tucker's family altar began to get around One day the boys at his gas station asked him if he couldn't put one up for them right there Tucker and his assistants numbered three white men and two colored men—all Protestants—so they put up a Protestant altar in an empty room previously used to store junk Somehow, the customers found out about this room and began to drop in for a moment of quiet prayer There were Jews and Catholics among them The little town has neither a Catholic Church nor a synagogue, but Erwin Tucker went to Oklahoma City and talked to a priest and a rabbi about the symbols of devotion appropriate to those faiths

TODAY THERE ARE Catholic and Jewish altars too but all it says over the doorway to that room is Prayer" And thousands of people traveling along Route 77 have stopped at Tucker's and found the presence of God A department store owner was among them and now has a prayer room in his store an officer of a great manufacturing company was inspired to put one in his factory and the state's safety officers found that drivers who came out of that room drove better because a man with peace in his mind and heart has better control of himself and his automobile

As you read this there is probably someone in Erwin Tucker's filling station filling up with prayer power and faith This layman has made his place of business a place of God and a living demonstration of the magic quality of faith

The Word of God

A Sermonette

By REV C E HERSHEY
Pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church

'All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof for correction, for instruction in righteousness That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." (2 Timothy 3 16-17).

This is a skeptical age Doubt and mistrust are to be found everywhere The foundation for this situation which has become prevalent lies in the fact that truth and trust have been dealt with carelessly Today a man's word is not enough Too often man has failed his word A bond has become common and necessary Children are not taught truth Parents lie to their children and the children to the parent It is therefore not strange that doubt has arisen as to the divine origin of the Bible Skepticism is characteristic of the day

However, doubt is removed by proof Therefore if the Bible is the Word of God there must be proof that it is such Agnostics claim that the Bible is full of mistakes and contradictions Critics attack its authenticity Yet they do not prove their accusations by facts, because they cannot They ridicule, misrepresent use sarcasm, But when their attacks are met with the presentation of the truth, they have no argument No mistakes or contradictions can be found when the Bible is studied in its entirety and according to its original language Careful investigation proves the Bible to be the written word of God without error, discrepancy or contradiction.

ALTHOUGH THE BIBLE is true and is the divine Word of God we cannot expect to bring people into the knowledge of salvation by arguments even though they are based on facts and evidence The human mind is at enmity with the truth of the Word especially with the truth concerning man's depravity and his utter helplessness to save himself Man does not like to accept the fact that he must depend upon the grace of God for his salvation Argument may convince the skeptic to consider the Bible in a different light but it will not bring him to Christ However many skeptics have realized the truth of God's Word after investigating thoroughly the so-called criticisms and mistakes

The Bible is the world's best seller Millions of copies are sold every year No other book regardless of its popularity and usefulness can begin to compare with the record the Bible has set in gaining the interest of the people It has been translated into more languages than any other book Brilliant men have given years to preparing concordances dictionaries encyclopedias and commentaries on the Bible Irrespective of all this the Bible has been the most persecuted book of all ages It has been destroyed burned, declared untrue and attacked in other ways Edicts have been issued against it the penalty for having one in one's possession was death! Yet today it stands stronger than ever before What other book could have withstood such attacks?

The Bible was written by approximately forty different writers some fishermen herdsmen prophets and kings A period of 1 600 years elapsed during its production It is composed of 66 books yet it has perfect unity From beginning to end there is a progression of thought the theme being man's complete ruin in sin and God's perfect remedy in Christ This is more noticeable and impressive the more it is studied

THE BIBLE has made a greater impact on history than all other books combined It has overthrown empires it has civilized continents and brought about the establishment of schools and hospitals Every modern institution for the relief of suffering and misery of mankind is a result of its influence It has laid the foundation for the laws of nations and wherever it has gone it has enlightened and brought progress It has replaced cruelty and barbarism with mercy and justice

The Bible is incomparable in its moral and ethical teachings The effect of it in the lives of men is true of no other book Those who love it are in a different class from those who hate it It divides mankind The drunkard is transformed into a new creature by the Bible The captive to sin is set free from sin's bondage Where it is loved there is joy It satisfies the deepest yearnings and brings peace to the living and hope to the dying It solves our most difficult problems and guides us when perplexed comforts us in sorrow corrects us when we sin Millions testify to the fact that it brings happiness and blessing

The Bible is historically correct Many nations and kings and cities and villages are named and linked with specific dates and events during thousands of years and there is not one single error The discovery of ancient records which agree with the accounts of the Bible accentuates its truth Almost the whole Old Testament deals with the history of a single nation and and its relation to the other nations thus it is interwoven with the history of the whole world The New Testament is also historical and biographical The Gospels contain the history of Christ's birth and work and redemptive sacrifice The Book of Acts is a record of the history of the establishment and organization of the Church The Epistles have a historical setting The Bible challenges secular history either to refute or confirm its testimony and comparison proves it true

THE BIBLE IS CORRECT in all its statements regarding science Plato and Aristotle believed certain theories of science which have been proven to be incorrect Though the writers of the Scripture were not preparing scientific dissertations their references to these subjects when investigated prove to be correct When the wise men of the day knew not these facts we realize that it was divine wisdom that guided these writers Facts regarding astronomy as found in the book of Job prove that although to the astronomers of that day and for many years afterward they were meaningless Job knew exactly this comparatively recently found astronomical data Where did Job get his knowledge? Archaeology has brought to light many proofs of the authenticity of the Bible Discoveries of archaeologsits have confirmed the truth of the Word of God Even the evidence of a sudden universal flood has been found as well as facts to prove many other truths such as the destruction of Sodom etc Truly God wrote the Bible through the use of these various writers otherwise it could not be scientifically correct for the theories of those days have long since been outdated

The Bible is an authority on the future as well as the past, It teaches of the unseen world as well as things visible It is trustworthy on every point that can be tested Therefore we can rest assured it is trustworthy also on matters that must be taken by faith Even in this skeptical age the Bible can stand the test It is truly the Word of God

The Scriptures were accepted as the Word of God by Christ and He quoted and taught from them The Scriptures prophesied of Him and He fulfilled them prophecy Christ God's only begotten Son is the theme of the Bible Won't you accept Him as your personal Saviour? He offers salvation to all who will believe Therefore being justified by faith we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ (Romans 5 1)

'Gone With Wind' Current Attraction At Palace Theater

"Gone With the Wind" the David O Selznick production which has been heralded as one of the greatest motion pictures of all time is the current attraction at the Palace Theater It is now being shown throughout the country on the new wide screen

Clark Gable is starred as Rhett Butler and Vivien Leigh as Scarlett O Hara in the technicolor film which is concerned with the South during the Civil War and in reconstruction days

Exciting scenes include Sherman's march to the sea and the resulting panic stricken fight of the populace from Atlanta, the siege of Atlanta and the burning of its munitions warehouses the ball at Tara and the plantation sequences

Supporting players feature Leslie Howard and Olivia de Havilland The picture will play here through Tuesday

Billed for Wednesday through Saturday is a double feature 'Man with a Million' a comedy production in technicolor starring Gregory Peck, and 'Project M 7' a drama of suspense and intrigue co-starring Phyllis Calvert and James Donald

The former is the story of a penniless American who is launched on a series of fantastic adventures when he is given a million pound note by two eccentric Londoners

The spy thriller centers about the world's fastest atomic powered plane It focuses on the lives of a group of international scientists working in a secret research station in Britain

CLARK GABLE and Vivien Leigh star as Rhett Butler and Scarlett O Hara in the production of 'Gone with the Wind' currently playing a return engagement at the Palace Theater The film is now being shown on the new wide screen throughout the country

Gordon MacRae, Jane Powell Star at Marion

"3 Sailors and a Girl" starring Jane Powell and Gordon MacRae with Gene Nelson and 'Captain John Smith and Pocahontas' with Anthony Dexter and Jody Lawrence will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Marion Theater

The former is concerned with three sailors who pool their accumulated pay upon their return from long sea duty for a fling in Wall street But they wind up producing a Broadway stage show with the money with Jane Powell as the star Related in the latter film is the love story of Captain Smith and Pocahontas and of John Rolfe the gentleman colonist who married the beautiful Indian girl after John Smith had left her He later took her to London where she captivated the society of the day

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are Riders to the Stars and 'Fort Algiers" The former stars William Lundigan Herbert Marshall and Richard Carlson and heading the cast in the latter are Thompson

The story in the former concerns three men who are assigned by the Office of Scientific Investigation to try to capture a meteor and bring it back for inspection It shows the rugged preparatory tests the pilots undergo and the hazardous flight through space and then even more hazardous return to earth Fort Algiers tells the story of a spy sent by the French to discover the person and story behind wild Arab uprisings

Thursday afternoon only a Roy Rogers hit and 10 cartoons will be shown

The evening attractions will be 'Shark River' starring Steve Cochran and Carole Mathews with Warren Stevens, and "Bitter Creek with Wild Bill Elliott They also will be shown Friday and Saturday

Filmed on location in the Florida Everglades Shark River tells the story of an adventure-laden trek taken by three men through that unexplored swampland They encounter all sorts of dangers including snakes alligators and hostile Indians Along the way they are joined by a young widow and her son who have been living in primitive fashion in the swampland

Church Briefs

Special activities of Trinity Baptist Church next week will include a Sunday School picnic at Camp Owens near Marion Saturday, and a vacation tour for Boy Scout Troop 4.

The picnic time is set for the afternoon and evening Saturday with transportation to be provided by the committee in charge, leaving the church at 3 o'clock. Games and contests, including swimming, will provide entertainment for all ages. Activity will conclude with a picnic supper and a brief vesper service

The Boy Scout troop's event will be a camping expedition through the mountains of eastern United States traveling by automobiles and truck. Included in the itinerary will be Valley Forge and Washington, D.C Four adult members of the Scout committee, accompanying the troop will be Kenneth Albert, Delmar Brewer, Donald Schwaderer and Ray Russell.

Announcements concerning the next few weeks for the Victoria Christensen Circle were made at a recent picnic meeting held at the home of Mrs R A Maxim near Marion for which Mrs. Thelma Arthur and Mrs. Margaret Coltrell were cohostesses. Devotions by Mrs Virginia Seiter were followed by a short business session and the announcements. There will be no regular meeting of the group this month Members and guests will attend a demonstration of electrical appliances at Bon-Neff Inc. Aug. 17. Guest night will be observed Sept. 23 at the West Town Branch of National City Bank. Beginning in October, for the remainder of the year, the circle's meetings will be held the second Thursday of the month instead of on the fourth Thursday.

2 Persons Killed In Columbus Crash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two persons were killed today in a two-car collision near a street intersection. Two others were hurt seriously.

Dead were Miss Myrtle Bartram, about 42, of Columbus, and Dwight Churry, 18, of nearby Hilliard

Miss Bartram was riding in a car with M. A. Beck 43, assistant manager and treasurer of the Clark Grave Vault Co., who was injured Churry was riding with Jerry Kaltenbach, 17 who also was hurt.

Police said both Miss Bartram and Churry were thrown from the automobiles The body of Churry was not found until about two hours after the accident, lying in mud and water under Beck's automobile which had gone into a ditch Police think Churry may have drowned

Ohio Girl Arrested By Russian Police

KENT, Ohio (AP)—A Kent girl who has been in Russia only three weeks has been arrested and released by the Soviet police, who confiscated her camera

The U.S. State Department reported in Washington last night that an embyassy translator, Miss Joyce Marshall, and Arthur Hasler, an assistant naval attache, had been arrested in an unrestricted area near Moscow and held for about three hours

Miss Barbara Marshall of Kent said the woman is her 26-year-old sister, who has been a State Department employee since 1951. They are daughters of Prof and Mrs. Leon Marshall Prof Marshall teaches history at Kent State University.

The State Department announcement said it had filed a "strong protest" with the Soviet Foreign Office over the incident.

Hoover at 80

All the veneration reserved for men who attain great age in public life without loss of prestige now is being bestowed on Herbert Hoover, who will be 80 on Aug. 10. Since Harry Truman also is getting the benefit of the same thing, here is one thing involving political figures that is truly nonpartisan.

Hoover at 80 has become a philosopher whose views on everything but his fight for freedom are mellow. On the fight for freedom he is as arbitrary as he was when he warned against the consequences of centralizing responsibility for relief in Washington. 'The greatest glory that can come to one," he once said, "is to be given the opportunity to fight for free men. I shall continue the fight for those principles which made the United States the greatest gift of God to freedom."

There are many "firsts" in Herbert Hoover's long and distinguished career. He is the first former President to perform a continuously valuable service after retirement to public life. His work as a student of government reorganization and a prime mover in executive reform in the federal establishment will be historic.

He was the first Quaker to serve as President of the United States, the first President to be born west of the Mississippi River and the first President to be trained in science.

He was the first party leader to attain that position without previous partisan activity; he never had held elective public office before being elected in 1928 and never had been on a government payroll. He was the first American to administer his country's generosity on an organized basis in the Old World. He was the first Chief Executive to forego his salary, because he felt that he had acquired all the income he needed through his own efforts as a mining engineer.

And now, having reached his 80th birthday, he is the first man of his era to know that his countrymen finally forget the passions and prejudices of partisanship and honor their leaders for what they are, instead of berating them for what their critics said they were not.

As Big as War

After spending upward of 87 billion dollars for highways in the next 10 years—37 billion for work that would have been done anyway, plus an extra 50 billion as suggested recently by President Eisenhower—the United States could spend an indefinite number of billions for new schools and improvement of worn-out schools.

The United States also could spend many billions on the rehabilitation of gone-to-seed municipal areas, thereby returning to the tax duplicate some of the values that have disappeared. Cities could spend billions for the improvement of their street systems, sewage system, garbage disposal systems, their parks and their municipal equipment. States could spend billions to stop erosion and stream pollution.

There is no limit in sight to the amount of money over and above ordinary expenditures that the United States could spend to improve itself. It would be a sum at least as big as the profligate spending that occurs without question when there is war—the spending that induces a war boom.

But in the absence of war, every expenditure encounters opposition. Expenditures at the state and local level may encounter the kind of opposition that manifests itself in voters' refusals to permit them to be made at all.

There can be war booms but there can be no peace booms, even though the latter would add to the national wealth and the former merely detracts from it for the sake of protecting it from seizure.

Fires of Revolt

There is circumstantial evidence that the Communist conspiracy has been lighting matches in French Morocco. It also has been busy with its mischief in Tunisia, another French protectorate. Only a few days ago it forced France into a humiliating settlement of the trouble it had started in Indochina.

The fires of revolt are easy to set and hard to extinguish. The advantage of the Communist conspirators lies in their ability to promise everything since they have no intention of keeping their promises. If they can seize political power, they will set up their special version of a police state — a version in which disagreement with their authority is automatically punishable by death.

It was predicted before the settlement in Indochina that trouble would break out next in France's African protectorates. Britain's decision to withdraw from Suez was prompted by certainty that the Communist conspiracy would waste no opportunities in the Mediterranean basin.

The Mediterranean is the gateway to the ocean which has been the prime target of Russian diplomacy for generations. The Communist conspiracy is essentially a means of satisfying the desires of the Russian nationalists. They feed the fires of nationalism wherever they flicker, for the sake of strengthening their own nationalism.

Eventually, the fires will be set against the Russians, themselves, but until then they can be relied on to drop matches wherever there is tinder for revolt against members of the anti-Russian nations.

GOP Hopes Glimmering

President's Tactics May React Against Party

Some grave doubts are beginning to be expressed on Capitol Hill as to whether President Eisenhower isn't unwittingly helping to bring about the defeat of the Republican party in the coming congressional elections. That's the last thing in the world he wants to see happen—the election of a Democratic congress — but it may come about as a direct result of the tactics of the White House itself.

The trouble arises by reason of the peculiar policy which the President has adopted with respect to being photographed with Republican members of Congress who have not supported his legislative program as enthusiastically as the executive would have liked.

More than 100 Republican members of Congress have been photographed with the President, and the obvious purpose is to circulate each picture in the state or district as a sign that Eisenhower wants the particular candidate elected as against the Democratic nominee.

In a few instances the White House staff to whom Eisenhower delegated the task of evaluating the records of congressmen and senators has refused to allow the photographing to be done, and this in turn has caused several other members to hesitate to ask for such an endorsement.

Why should the President refuse to endorse any member of the Republican party in either house who is up for election?

DOES HE THINK he can accomplish the enactment of his legislative proposals if, because of the defeat of perhaps only one Republican representative and one Republican senator, the control of both houses should pass to the Democratic party?

Would Eisenhower prefer to come as a suppliant to the majority leader of the House and the majority leader of the Senate, when both are Democrats, and ask them to enact his program?

Would he get sympathetic treatment when the Democratic party, looking forward to control of the White House in the presidential election two years later, would do everything it could to obstruct the program of the Republican administration?

Would Eisenhower prefer to see the chairmanships of all committees now held by Republicans in both houses pass into the hands of Democrats?

The President may be gambling that the few he is refusing to support will be offset by such big gains by Republican nominees at the polls that the loss of those who haven't gone along with him will not matter.

The principle is just the same. Either Eisenhower, as a Republican, recognizes each choice by the Republican party in its primaries or else he is willing to accept the loss of control by his party of both houses of Congress in order to punish those Republicans who didn't go along with him on certain proposals.

THE "PURGE" issue was fought out under the administrations of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman, and usually the executive lost. In practically every case the fight was carried on in the party primary instead of in the final elections.

The Eisenhower tactics, as they appear from what the President has told the correspondents in his press conferences, would withhold support from Republicans even when nominated in the party primaries.

With the Senate almost a tie and the control likely to be decided by the result in one state and with the margin in the House so narrow that any one Republican seat could mean the difference between retaining or losing control, it is questionable whether Eisenhower ever thought the matter through to its logical result or whether any of his staff did, either.

Such facts do get out in the campaign. The Democratic nominee in each instance will say to the voters that the Republican isn't able to get the endorsement of the President and, while such a Democrat may promise to support some of the Eisenhower policies, he cannot, if elected, very well refuse to vote for the slate of committee chairmen which the Democrats will put up and for the Democratic party leaders to be selected to carry on the business in both houses.

IT MAY BE that Eisenhower, who is believed by some members of Congress to be well-intentioned but inexperienced, really doesn't care whether the Republican party controls Congress next time, but this doesn't square with the statements he has made to his press conferences in which he has expressed the hope that the Republicans would win the autumn elections.

So there's a lot of talk about whether Eisenhower really knows the score in relation to the coming congressional campaign.

Some members already are asking whether he knows he would be stabbing his own party members in the back by a refusal to endorse Republicans duly nominated in the party primaries.

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: We have spent a lazy indolent day here at the Corners. Even the tourists, in my opinion, looked as if they'd had it and were ready to call it quits. One car stopped with a tire that had begun to go flat. The people were headed home for Kansas. This was their second mess of tire trouble in one day. When Jim and Rudy told the old man he had a choice between risking a boot and buying a new tire, he didn't really have a choice at all. He had to buy a tire, and I could tell by the way he inquired about the price that the money was coming out of his hide. So I slipped the boys a suggestion they give him a four-buck allowance on the casing we were going to throw away. That's why I never got rich.

Late in the afternoon, your aunt and I took our picnic basket and lit out for a woods I discovered a couple of weeks ago when I was spending a half day with the county engineer's crew. It lies on both sides of an abandoned road that runs in back of Sauder's mill, if you remember where that is. It was as green and lush in that woods as if there hadn't been any drought this summer. I kept thinking of the description of an oasis. And I kept thinking about something else.

According to what I have heard, there is evidence the deserts once were habitable, that they were tillable productive land, except for the mountainous parts. Whatever happened to make them turn into deserts is a mystery. But they did turn into deserts and it could happen to us.

My new birch trees have perished this summer. The pear trees I set out are looking mighty peaked. My farmer friends tell me it will take a miracle to bring back their burnt - out pastures. The stream levels are falling, and so is the ground water level. When an area turns into a desert it doesn't happen all at once. It is a little loss of life here and a little there, until one day the place is barren and desolate. It would be a long time coming The possibility gives me the creeps. I won't be around to see it, but the sample is enough to make me nervous.

Incidentally, we had a fine picnic in that woods, but I want to tell you about something I did yesterday. I went to the county library and read The Congressional Record. I wanted to know what the senators said about the proposal to adopt a resolution of censure against the junior senator from Wisconsin What I particularly wanted to know was whether Communism had anything to do with it.

If you can get your hands on the copies that contain the debate, read them. For a long time I've had a hunch that things in Congres were getting too complicated to be handled by the who-what-where-when school of journalism. I want to know why.

I've never had any patience with people who snort at The Congressional Record. They reveal their ignorance of their country and their contempt for its dependence on an infomed electorate every time they snort. If I could make everybody read the speeches inspired by the proposal to adopt that resolution of censure, I'd at least know they'd been given a chance to understand why the debate was worth having and why the issue as not about Communism.

Don't go away sore because I took a dig at your business. I don't blame newspapers. I blame people who believe the most complex questions of our time can be compressed into capsules for headline writers. I keep trying to imagine how the Constitutional convention of 1787 would have flopped if the people had known no more about the problems of republicanism then than most of them know now.

Your aunt is fine. I am fine and both of us hope you are the same. Cotton Corners UNCLE GEORGE

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

The city of Marion was founded 46 years after the Declaration of Independence, 35 years after the establishment of the first civil government north of the Ohio River and 33 years after the adoption of the Constitution of the United States and the inauguration of the first president. The town was four years old when John Adams, the second president, and Thomas Jefferson, the third president, died; 14 years old when Madison, the fourth president, died. James Monroe, the fifth president, who is said to have passed through what is now Marion County, from Sandusky to Columbus, in 1817, lived nine years after the birth of the town. General Francis Marion, whose name Eber Baker gave to the town had been dead 27 years.

Ohio's Surprising Vote on Fryingpan

By Raymond Moley

These should be the days that try taxpayers' souls. But what with the heat, the Russians, the Chinese, and other more lurid subjects, the taxpayers learns little of what is put over in the final days of a session of Congress. And it is assured that what is put over is more spending.

A miracle, assisted by some alert and conscientious members of the House of Representatives, defeated an authorization of the Fryingpan-Arkansas transmountain diversion project which would have cost the taxpayers of the nation hundreds of millions of dollars and the people on the western slope of Colorado a lot of water that they will need in future years.

I have described that strange brain child of Interior Department bureaucrats in earlier articles. I shall merely say here that it involved a highly dubious plan to take water from the west slope through a tunnel to the Arkansas River.

THE WATER would activate some power plants to be built, supply some cities, and supplement a considerable amount of irrigation down the river to the border of Kansas.

Figures used in the debate, which I have personally checked, indicate that the subsidy on each acre of irrigated land would be more than $1,300 an acre.

The vote in the House was 195 188 against the authorization. An analysis of the roll call reveals some interesting things about why some congressmen vote for or against such projects.

It is obvious that congressmen from states that are on the receiving line for reclamation appropriations would give a hand to their eastern Colorado brethren. But in three states east of the Mississippi the votes show several sorts of motivation.

THE PENNSYLVANIA delegation voted 23-2 against the Fryingpan. The vote must in part be attributed to Congressman Saylor, who has been the most active and forceful opponent of such spending projects in the House. It can also be attributed to the past education of several members from that state in appropriations subcommittees dealing with such projects.

The Virginia delegation split six against to three in favor.

The three who favored the project were Republican. The opponents were Democrats. This is most certainly because notice was served through Majority Leader Halleck that this project was favored by the administration. In fact, one of the first decisions of Interior Secretary McKay was to endorse it.

New Yorkers in about equal proportions of Democrats and Republicans voted in the majority against the measure.

The Ohio result is surprising, not to say amazing. Here is a state paying an immense sum in income taxes. It would bear a heavy proportion of the cost of the Fryingpan. But the Ohio delegation voted 14-5 in favor of the project.

Four of the five were Democrats —Feighan, Hays, Kirwan, and Polk. Only one, Scherer of Cincinnati, was a Republican.

Even such stalwart opponents of spending when Truman was President as Bender and Brown voted for the project.

-:-

NO DOUBT in the present instance, they were of the opinion that they were supporting the administration. But the taxpayer who feels just as keenly as dollar spent by a Republican as by a Democratic administration will, I am sure, applaud Scherer for his irreconcilability.

Taxpayers will also take note of the strong speeches in opposition by Smith of Virginia, Donovan of New York, and Saylor of Pennsylvania.

Neither partisanship nor log-rolling nor personal considerations restrained these men from laboring to attain a balanced budget now and in the future

I trust that those who read this will note that I have not forgotten the element of log-rolling. To do so would be an unpardonable lack of understanding of what has gone on throughout this session.

Another Challenge Met

By MARK DANA

In this age of radar and sound-speed airplanes, it is a sort of reverse challenge to men to remind that whatever they achieve with machines, Mother Nature herself remains queen of her own realm and only slowly, rewardingly, yields bits of her sovereignty.

Last year, for the first time, human beings set foot and flag on the pinnacle of Mt. Everest, 29,002 feet above sea level, but in protection of ice and precipices and gales even more formidable.

The next obvious challenge to humans was the world's next-highest mountain, Mt. Godwin Austen (also known as K-2), 28,250 feet high in northern Kashmir. Many tried to climb this mountain to attain even second-best glory, but now a group of Italians, led by Ardito Desio, has conquered K-2. Thus does Mother Nature, whether reluctantly or as a gracious and willing recognition of perseverance, yield some of her citadels.

On the Nepal-India border, of course, is Kanchenjunga, the world's third highest peak— a 28,146-ft. mass of rocks and glacial ice to whose summit no man has yet attained. Inevitably, intrepid climbers will make new, special efforts to conquer this peak, and some day when conditions are just right — and perhaps after many courageous persons have died trying—somebody will scramble to the crest, plant a flag (which will vanish within a month), and crawl down again.

The sheer drama of these fascinating yet forbidding struggles for a momentary vista, yet longer than momentary renown, has a compelling force. Desk - bound and home-chained men and women exclaim about the waste of lives and energy, the lack of any practical benefit to anybody, more fruitful challenges close by. Yet that is brain-talk. The language of emotions disdains logic for fancy, and man's ambitions seldom are encompassed by tangible limitations.

Malenkov Sends Stamps

SEQUIM, Wash. (AP)—Two boys wanted Russian stamps for their collection and wrote direct to Premier G. M. Malenkov. Back came the stamps — 120 of them. Bill Keller, 14, and Eldon Spady, 14, also got a letter from a man in the Russian export department, polite but formal saying the stamps were being sent gratis.

"Since you are interested in collecting Soviet stamps," is added, "we wish to recommend that in future you obtain our stamps through the medium of philatelic firms in your country.

"The literature of the Soviet Union (1 copy) will be sent you under separate cover." The literature hasn't arrived. The boys say they think postal authorities may have stopped the second letter as propaganda.

The Once Over

Something We Ate. No Doubt

When top officials of automobile associations and safety councils make with speeches belting speed as a main cause of auto accidents it may be time to take to the hills Recent statement by them have given more aid and comfort to screwball car operators than anything that has happened since the first horse was frightened by Hank Ford's "999." Never have hell-for-leather drivers been so cheered.

Pop and Mom have taken another licking in their efforts to convince Junior that fast driving is dangerous. Police overtaking speed maniacs are getting the answer "Eighty miles per hour ain't dangerous. I thought you knew."

David M Baldwin, a National Safety Council director, recently declared speed was not a major cause of the highway blood baths. Oscar Brow, president of the New York State Auto Association, followed with speed supporting this amazing view and saying, "Thinking motorists do not believe speed is the killer. Plain dumbness and failure to observe the traffic laws are to blame."

After swiftly climbing a telegraph pole and spending a weekend atop it, Elmer Twitchell came down and interviewed a speed-doesn't-matter-too-much man.

"The idea that breaking the speed laws and driving around crowded highways at sixty to eighty miles per hour is killing people is absurd," the man declared. Just then there was a terrific crash below An ambulance, a police car and two taxis had tried to beat one another around the corner.

"What caused that?" asked Elmer. "Evidently the humidity," the safety council official said, continuing his argument that there isn't anything really dangerous in using a car as a jet plane.

"It is amazing to find so many people holding that speed is a major cause of accidents," the man went on. Here the building shook. A truck had left the street, mounted the sidewalk and knocked a hole in a drugstore below. "How do you suppose that happened?" asked Elmer, as both looked from the window.

"Driver probably worrying over the Suez Canal settlement and the Fiume issue," the man said calmly.

Elmer was about to ask further questions when there was a scream from 100 yards down the street, where a pedestrian had been driven to the top of a lamppost by a couple of teenagers in a racing car.

"Look at that!" exclaimed Elmer.

"Those lamposts are a menace," the safety expert said. "They need regulating."

Mr. Twitchell saw he was getting nowhere and offered to take the man to lunch. As they crossed the street on green they were both booted through the plate-glass window of a delicatessen by a car traveling with the speed of light.

"Wha happen?" they both asked at the hospital.

"You are victims of a sudden change in the wind," the doctor explained.

Casey Stengel says he ought to win the pennant or get fired. . .. Charlie Dressen could tell him how to do both.

Arthur Godfrey's colt was ahead of the winner of the historic Flash Stake at Saratoga most of the way. The winner was named "Laugh" and Godfrey had no kick, since he has always put laughs first.

If we were writing up a chart sheet on a Godfrey colt we would include the phrases "away winging," "always in picture," "gave good performance," "responded when called on" and "acted well." Arthur's colt stopped at the end and may have been waiting for the commercial or station identification."

A motion picture about cowboys has been named "The Cowboy," believe it or not.

10 YEARS AGO — The Germans struck their most furious counterblow at Americans since D-day, shooting four armored divisions to a depth of about three miles into the thinnest Allied coastal strip east of Avranches.

The German radio said allied bomber fleets were striking into Europe from the west and south as excellent weather sent waves of British-based bombers and fighters streaming toward the continent.

The casualty news listed a Marion man, Pvt. Melvin C. Shark, 28, and husband of a Marion woman, Pfc. Edwin J. Leatherman, 24, as missing in action in France, Pvt. William Gruber, 24, of Marion and Cpl. Raymond D. Swick of Columbus, formerly of Marion, as wounded in action in France.

The army restored normal transportation service in Philadelphia and fired four leaders of the unauthorized walkout that gave the nation's second largest city a "nightmare week," cut war production and caused racial violence.

House on Silver Street Broken Into, $60 Stolen

A Silver St. house was ransacked and $60 in cash taken from it during the day Friday, police reported today.

At 4:37 p.m. Friday, Russell Arnold of 540 Silver St. reported someone had broken into the rear door of his home during the day.

He said several phonograph records as well as lamps had been broken by the burglars, and $60 taken. He claimed the burglars had pried open a back door to get into the house.

Lodge Activities

Degree work was exemplified and initiation of two members was held at a recent meeting of Paramount Council No. 37, Daughters of America.

Conducting the initiation of Mrs. Ruth Young and Mrs. Bertha Atkinson were Mrs. Gertrude Miller, councilor of the degree officers, and Gladys McDougal, captain of the degree team.

Mrs. Miller announced plans for a rummage sale to be held in October for the benefit of the old folks home, orphans and good of the order. Plans were also completed to attend the state convention in Cleveland Aug. 16, 17 and 18. It was announced that several past councilors from Marion would attend the district four past councilors picnic at Shelby park and Mrs. Helen Tharp, president of the Paramount club, announced a picnic and pot luck dinner Wednesday, Aug. 11, at Garfield Park. Mrs. Rose Seiter and Mrs. Blanche Hartpence will be hostesses.

The special member award went to Mrs. Alma Eddy. Lunch was served by a committee headed by Mrs. Dessie Carpenter at the close of the meeting.

Weddings

The wedding of Miss Iva May Boganwright and Robert Moore took place Monday evening, July 19, on the lawn of the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boganwright in LaRue. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Jesse Moore of 526 Toledo Ave. and the late Mr. Moore.

The ceremony was read by Elder Daily Hite of the Primitive Baptist Church in Brush Ridge.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white embroidered organdy street-length dress and carried a bouquet of red roses. Mrs. Frank Brown and Mrs. Violet Leathem, sisters of the bride, were the attendants. They wore dresses of pink embroidery and corsages of carnations.

Don Strickland served as best man for his brother-in-law and Don Moore, brother of the bridegroom was the usher.

The bride's mother wore a dress in a navy shade and Mrs. Moore wore a nylon print. Both had corsages of white carnations.

A reception for 35 guests followed the ceremony. The bride's table held a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom and decorations were in her colors of pink and blue. Assisting were Mrs. Rhoda Price and Mrs. Mina Brewer.

The bride attended the LaRue school and the bridegroom attended LaRue and Harding High Schools. He is employed with the Marion Power Shovel Co. They are making their home at 526 Toledo Ave.

Guests were from Martel, Marion, Cincinnati, Richwood, Byhalia and York Center.

The bride gave her attendants rhinestone earrings and bracelets and the bridegroom's gifts to the best man and ushers were cufflinks and tieclasps.

THEFT ATTEMPT FAILS

A youthful would-be-car thief was frightened away this morning by C. A. Bolin, merchant policeman. Bolin called police and reported that at 4 a.m., he saw a boy, about 17, trying to start a car at the Key's Auto Sales lot on N. Main St. Bolin said when he approached the boy, the youngster took off running. Bolin said he was on his usual rounds at the time.

Observe Golden Wedding

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES TENNANT

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tennant of the Hillman-Ford Rd. will observe their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday in their home. Aside from a family get-together in the afternoon and a dinner in the evening, there will no be observance of the anniversary.

The wedding took place Aug. 10, 1904, in the Wesleyan Methodist Church parsonage with Rev. R. E. Carter performing the ceremony.

The bride of 50 years ago was Miss Laura Palmer of Waverly, O., daughter of Samuel and Susan Palmer, natives of that county. Mr. Tennant was born at Petroleum, W. Va. His parents were Adam and Hatriet Tennant, natives of the state.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Tennant came to Marion when they were quite young and have lived in their present home for many years. Mr. Tennant, known as "Charlie," is a farmer. They are members of the Methodist Church. He is 79 years old and his wife is 69. Their children are Oscar of 187 Carhart St., George, at home, Howard of Stewart Manor, Long Island, N.Y., and Starling of Mount Gilead. They also have two granddaughters and three grandsons.

Today's Annie Oakley

'Shooting Schoolmarm' Gives Lesson in Accuracy

SIERRA MADRE, Calif. (NANA) —From Mother Goose to the daring deeds of Annie Oakley covers a wide range of female adventure, but Mrs. Margaret Culbertson, former kindergarten teacher of Sierra Madre, Calif., has managed to make the parlay.

As a matter of fact, Peg Culbertson is preparing to give some grownup experts a lesson in pistol marksmanship at the national matches to be held at Camp Perry, O., Aug. 15 through Sept. 5. She'll defend her title as national woman's pistol champion against some of the best pistol-packers in the country during the matches with rifles, muzzle loaders, and flintlocks held under supervision of the National Rifle Association and the military services and considered the world series of Marksmanship.

MRS. CULBERTSON became interested in pistol shooting in 1940 when her husband brought home a pair of revolvers he had bought for $60.

"His excuse," she said today, "was that I might want to learn to shoot. The truth was he'd always wanted a gun himself. But I fooled him, I did learn."

In time, Culbertson's interest in gun competitions dwindled. But his wife's grew into fascination. The war years canceled the matches and she did little serious shooting from 1946 until 1950. Then she won her first national woman's record with the .45 at pistol matches in San Diego.

Since then Peg Culbertson has knocked the bull's-eye out of 29 pistol records, 15 of which were her own scores established in previous meets.

At home Mrs. Culbertson keeps busy with chores and tending to the needs of her husband and 15-year-old son, John. But next to the washing machine, Peg has her "workshop," complete with melting furnace, loading tool and bullet mold.

"My husband and I hand-load our ammunition and make all our bullets here at home," Mrs. Culbertson explained. "I practice with the .22 and .45 three times a week at the Pasadena police range and shoot about 200 rounds each time. This can get to be quite an expense. So, we make our own to reduce the cost of shooting."

PEG HOLDS women shooters in high regard as competitors, because, she says, they inherently make good shots, their eye and hand coordination is right for this sport. Although her style appears somewhat unorthodox—Peg shoots with both her hazel eyes open — she scores with sniper accuracy.

Until last year she taught two sessions of kindergarten in Sierra Madre, but retired because of illness. Now she's grooming a young protege to replace her some day as the woman's pistol champion. Until she does, Peg expects to cut the black out of more targets than any other woman alive.

Ohio Northern's Evening Classes Set Registration

Preliminary registration for enrollment in liberal arts and engineering courses of the Evening Division at Ohio Northern University is being arranged for people in the Marion, Lima and Ada area, according to information received from the university. Final registration and payment of fees is scheduled to take place early in September and classes will begin Sept. 27.

A printed brochure regarding the course is available at the university for all persons interested.

Girl's Sneezing Stops

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sneezing stopped at least temporarily today for 12-year-old Nancy Miller.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Miller started sneezing Monday and was taken to Bay View Hospital Tuesday.

Except when she was under a sedative and asleep, she kept on sneezing until today.

Greyhound 'Doing 40' Hits Woman in Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Mrs. Louise Smith, 38, Phoenix, was run over by a greyhound and hospitalized. But her injuries were not believed to be serious.

The greyhound, however, wasn't a bus. It was a dog, a racing hound which Mrs. Smith was training. It was estimated the log was traveling at 40 m.p.h. when it crashed into Mrs. Smith.

Planning Unit Okays Building Changes for 5

Five proposed building changes were approved by the Marion City Planning Commission at a public meeting held Friday afternoon in the office of Mayor Harold Robinson.

Approval was given to the Pennsylvania Railroad to tear down their present freight office and build a new one just behind the site. It will include a freight loading dock with entrance and exit drives for trucks. The action of the Planning Commission must be approved Monday by City Council.

A new service station at the corner of N. Main St. and Council St. was approved. Application was made by Frank Bruno to erect a station on the corner. Since the location is now zoned for commercial purposes, the commission approved the request after approval for the plans was given by the city engineer's office.

A new church, to be erected by the Pentecostal Lighthouse Tabernacle, at 993 Davids St. was approved. The church will be located across from the entrance to the Pollack Steel Co.

A chiropodists office will be located in the rear of 819 S. Prospect St. The application of Doyle Cook for permission to use the rear half of the house for that purpose was approved. The Commission stipulated any signs placed at the house must be satisfactory to the commission and to the neighbors.

Approval was given to Carl S. Dunbar to place a jewelry repair shop in the front of his house at 1111 E. Center St. as in the case of the S. Prospect St. office, any signs erected must meet with the approval of the commission and the neighbors.

Morrow ASC Bins Slated at Mt. Gilead

MOUNT GILEAD — A total of 30 more storage bins, holding 3,250 bushels each, will be erected soon on Neal Ave. in Mount Gilead to store this year's Morrow County wheat crop, it was announced this week by Glenn Jackson, chairman of the Morrow County agricultural and stabilization committee.

There are now 32 bins erected on the property leased from Steve McKirgan and these bins are nearly filled with wheat from last year's crop. None of last year's crop wheat has been moved to other storage facilites.

Erection of the additional bins will give total storage capacity for the ASC office of 207,500 bushels or more than one-third of the annual crop in the county.

MRS. JOSEPH L. SIEGLEY JR.

The home of the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Homer Aikin of 224 Ellis Pl., was the scene of the wedding of Miss Joyce Eileen Roberts and Joseph L. Seigley Jr., Sunday afternoon, July 18. Decorations throughout the rooms were baskets of white gladioli and lighted candles and white gladioli and greenery were caught to the stair railing with white satin ribbon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Roberts of 236 Arleigh Dr. and Mr. Seigley's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Siegley of 486 Bellefontaine Ave.

REV. HOWARD L. OLEWILER, retired pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated for the ceremony at 1:30 o'clock.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a strapless, hoop-skirted gown of ice blue nylon tulle over satin. The jacket had long sleeves, pointed over the hands and accenting the dress was an overskirt of embroidered nylon. A cap of tucked matching satin and lilies of the valley held her shoulder-length veil and she carried a white orchid, gypsophila and greenery on a white Bible, the latter a graduation gift from the First Presbyterian Church Here. Jewelry was a rhinestone necklace and earrings, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Patricia Wilson was the maid of honor and Miss Charlene Aiken, cousin of the bride, junior bridesmaid. Miss Wilson wore a gown of lilac crystallette, made with a sleeveless bodice and flared hooped skirt. She wore a cluster of shattered carnations in her hair, short lace mitts, and carried pink shattered carnations. Miss Aikin's dress, styled like that worn by the bride, was of lilac nylon over taffeta. She wore a headpiece of carnations, and carried a small crescent bouquet of pink shattered carnations. Both wore jewelry, gifts from the bride.

Mrs. Audra Moran wore a dress of champagne colored satin and tulle to light the candles. Her flowers were a wrist corsage of pink carnations.

Stanley Gary served as best man for the bridegroom.

THE RECEPTION WAS in the Elks parlors where the decorations were in lilac and pink, the bride's colors. The bride's mother wore a gown of white printed silk shantung, navy blue hat and matching accessories, and a corsage of red glamellias. The bridegroom's mother was costumed in a black and white scrolled linen dress, white hat and accessories, and wore rose glamellias.

Pink and lilac roses on a trellis formed a background for the bridal table. The four-tiered cake was surrounded by greenery and delphinium and completing the decorations were lighted tapers in silver candleholders. Assisting were Mrs. Robert Aikin, Mrs. Thomas Roberts, aunts of the bride and Mrs. Rodger Burden, cousin of the bridegroom.

For their wedding trip to Niagara Falls the bride chose a black and white checked handkerchief gingham sheath dress and yellow coat ensemble. She wore white accessories and her wedding orchid. They are making their home at 292 E. Center St.

The bride was graduated from Harding High School in 1952 and is employed as a bookkeeper at the Marion County Bank. The bridegroom, a graduate of Harding High School in 1948, attended Ohio State University and is employed with the General Telephone Company of Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Seigley entertained with the rehearsal party at which time Mrs. Roberts presented Miss Wilson with a pearl necklace, Miss Aikin a gold necklace and the bridegroom an initialed billfold and keyring. Mr. Siegley's gift to the best man was a monogrammed belt. Mrs. Moran was presented a billfold and keyring set and the assistants received summer jewelry.

Fish Monument

By Hal Boyle

BEULAH, WYO There is a $1,000,000 monument to a fish dinner near here.

The monument is Ranch "A" one of the fabulous showplaces of the West Local residents tell this story of its origin

HAL BOYLE

In the early 1930's the late Moses Annenberg multi-millionaire publisher, passing through this area on a motor tour to Yellowstone Park stopped for dinner in a restaurant in a nearby town He was served trout and found them amazingly succulent

'Where did these come from?' he asked He was told they came from Sand Creek which some experts regard as one of the two best trout streams in the world (the other is in Switzerland or Colorado or wherever you caught your last trout).

THE NEXT MORNING Annenberg drove to the heart of this fisherman's paradise took a long look at the beautiful salmon-colored cliffs and the clear-flowing stream and said two words to the owner 'How much?' He bought it on the spot

In the next few years Annenberg is reported to have spent approximately a million dollars on the ranch The great lodge—it has 8 bedrooms and 6 baths—was built of huge logs and filled with fine hand-carved western style furniture He put in a 9-car garage a huge barn in which each horse has its own automatic drinking fountain

The draperies in the lodge are of horsehide elaborately beaded The giant Navajo rugs can no longer be duplicated, looms that size no longer exist

RANCH "A" (for Annenberg) Is small as ranches go out here—only 680 acres slightly more than a square mile But it is a fish ranch not a beef ranch It has some40 elk 200 deer and flocks of wild turkey and ruffed grouse—but its main stock is in its flowing hatchery housing several hundred thousand defectable trout

Is the fishing good? Son Bucker of Ohio once cast a fly from the front porch of the lodge and hauled in a 14-pound rainbow beauty

Annenberg who also maintained fishing lodges in Florida and Pennsylvania came here less frequently in his later years and disposed of the property before his death It is now owned by Pete Smith 6 foot 7 son of a former Wyoming governor.

SMITH' ESTIMATES it would take $2 000 000 to $3 000 000 at today's prices to duplicate the lavish splendor of Ranch "A"

'Annenberg built it to last forever—and it should last forever' he said 'I've been told that each of the bronze casement windows cost $1 600"

Pete and his pretty wife Oydis, love the quiet charm and seclusion of their canyon retreat They can sit on the porch at evening and watch elk come cautiously out to graze on the 1 000 foot ledges that border murmuring Sand Creek

"One of the nicest things is that no dust gets into the lodge" said Oydis, giving a housewife's view

BUT TEMPTING as it is as a place to loaf Pete who has been a cattleman all his life has decided that even a showplace ought to show a profit

'There is no reason this hatchery can't harvest 150 000 pounds of trout a year' he said 'and trout brings a dollar a pound"

One single fish dinner led to the building of Ranch "A" But a lot more trout now will have to go to market to keep it going

New Aluminum Plant Planned

Will Be Constructed In Ravenswood Area

HUNTINGTON W Va (AP)—Two Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Co aluminum fabricating plants, costing more than 68 million dollars will be constructed in the Ravenswood area Rep Neal (R-WVa) said yesterday

The Huntington Republican made this announcement to the Herald-Dispatch after conferring with Arthur S Flemming, director of the Office of Defense Mobilization

Neal said one of the plants, originally scheduled to be built in Kentucky but transferred to the Ohio Valley since it is a labor surplus area will cost an estimated 66 million dollars

The other plant will produce aluminum welded tubing and will cost $1 734 000, according to Neal's statement

Neal said the certificate of necessity granted the Kaiser firm by the ODM to build the plants in Kentucky had been amended to direct construction in the Ravenswood area

During construction, Neal said 2 500 workers will be employed After completed, 2 600 operational employes will be needed

A month ago it was reported that 2 581 acres of land had been optioned by a Ravenswood businessman at the request of the Baltimore and Ohio Railway at Willow Grove 23 miles north of Point Pleasant

At Oakland Calif officials of the Kaiser company would not comment on the announcement but said the company would have a formal statement on the new plants.

State Patrolman, Man He Arrested, Exchange Charges

DELAWARE Ohio (AP)—It was tit for tat in the case of a Columbus motorist and a state highway patrolman here this week

Patrolman Ralph Boyles Jr arrested Ross T Lottridge of Columbus and charged him with speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone

Lottridge appeared before James Blair acting municipal court judge and pleaded guilty. He was fined $10 and costs

Then Lottridge filed a charge against Patrolman Boyles charging that in taking him from the point of arrest to Delaware, the officer exceeded the speed limit for the specified zone several times

Boyles pleaded not guilty and the case was continued until Aug 23
